

Israelis Invade Jordan, Smash Terrorists, Pull Out

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli invasion force drove deep into Jordan along a 200-mile front today to avenge a series of guerrilla raids, then began a planned withdrawal once the "police action" to wipe out terrorist bases was accomplished, an army spokesman said.

The daylong fighting that began at dawn with helicopter drops of assault teams and followed with dozens of jet bomber strafing runs cost Israel 15 dead and 70 wounded, according to the spokesman.

The Israelis reported killing at least 150 El Fatah terrorists and said they had inflicted heavy casualties on the Jordanian army. They claimed destroying 15 tanks and capturing two.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, who watched much of the fighting from a command post overlooking the Jordan Valley, had said earlier that the troops would be pulled out "on schedule."

The withdrawal came after Britain and the United States called on Israel to pull back its forces, but informants here said it had nothing to do with these appeals and called the withdrawal a "planned phase of the operation."

At the height of the fighting, Israeli and Egyptian positions exchanged fire at Great Bitter Lake on the Suez Canal, but the clash was small and no casualties were reported in Tel Aviv.

Jordan's chief of military intelligence estimated up to 15,000 Israeli troops crossed the Jordan, including three armored brigades and their tanks. It was the first major Israeli move into Arab territory since the Middle East war in June.

A Tel Aviv spokesman said one Israeli jet had been downed by ground fire, but that the pilot had bailed out and was safe behind his own lines.

He denied a Jordanian claim that its forces had killed 200 of the invaders, destroyed 42 tanks and armored cars and shot down three of Israel's French-made Mystere jets.

"Our casualties are surprisingly low for this kind of engagement," he said.

AP correspondent Roy Essoy-an reported from the Jordanian side of the river that the Jordan valley presented a dramatic scene at midmorning, with Israeli planes swooping low over the west bank and puffs of explosives clearly visible from a hilltop 15 miles east of the front.

A column of camouflage Jordanian tanks moved toward the river, the southern portion of which was shrouded in smoke.

Most of the action appeared centered around the former refugee camp at Karameh, three miles east of the river. The camp was evacuated after the Israeli attack on Feb. 15.

East of Karameh, the normally quiet villages nestled in green oases were thronged with farmers clustered around transistor radios.

Military traffic moved down the two main roads from Amman to the River Jordan.

Army checkpoints were thrown around Amman and most civilian traffic was stopped on the outskirts of this capital, less than 25 miles from the latest fighting.

Amman radio reported the army in neighboring Syria had been put on alert from the early hours of this morning. Irregular militia units were also on alert in Syria, it said.

There have been no reports so far of any activity on the vulnerable Syrian cease-fire line with Israel.

Weakened Dam In Massachusetts Threatens City

TAUNTON, Mass. (AP) — The flood-swollen Mill River broke through a 70-year-old wooden dam today and the torrent threatened another dam downstream which protects the downtown section of Taunton.

Hundreds of residents were evacuated from their homes several hours before the Whittenton Mill dam gave way.

There were no reports of injuries or serious property damage as a 20-foot center section and two smaller parts of the dam

Frank A. Morris of the Army Engineers said the situation in Taunton "is still touch and go."

The Taunton peril was the latest in the wake of a two-day torrential rain in southern New England earlier this week. Several other small rivers flooded lowlands causing damage estimated at some $50 million.

In the Boston area, the Charles River was overflowing into lowland interior sections, causing damage to homes along the banks.

Persons evacuated from a four-mile area near the Mill River late Wednesday night were not allowed to return to their homes.

The Mill River runs through the center of Taunton, a city of about 40,000 some 30 miles south of Boston.

Volunteers, city and Civil Defense workers labored all night under the direction of the Army engineers, sandbagging Morey's Bridge Dam about one mile upstream from Whittenton Mill Dam.

Sandbags also were stacked around Sabbatia Lake, which flows into Mill River.

Mayor Benjamin A. Friedman said the situation was "stabilized for the present and daylight is in our favor, but I still wouldn't say we were out of danger."

Public and private schools in the city and some manufacturing firms were closed.

Army engineers said there were some 25,000 tons of water pressure behind the Whittenton dam, which was shored up with 12 to 20-foot long timbers.

Slate Hearing On Candidacy

CLEVELAND (AP)—A hearing was scheduled in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Friday into the candidacy of Raymond C. Corrigan, who is running as a Democratic candidate in the 20th Congressional District primary election.

The election board agreed Wednesday to delay printing ballots for the Democratic primary until the issue is settled.

Former State Rep. Michael A. Sweeney asked the court to order the board to strike Corrigan's name from the ballot.

Sweeney, also a Democratic candidate in the congressional primary, said some signatures on Corrigan's petitions were invalid.

Allied Forces Kill 167 Reds Near Saigon

Tan Son Nhut Airport Shelled By Communists

SAIGON (AP) — Despite intelligence reports that many of the Viet Cong menacing Saigon have pulled back toward the Cambodian border, allied forces reported killing 167 Viet Cong close to the capital Wednesday, and 15 enemy shells landed on Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

The Viet Cong were slain in the 50,000-man Operation Quyet Thang, the biggest allied offensive of the war. In a one-sided fight 15 miles northwest of Saigon, 142 guerrillas were reported killed against only one American and seven South Vietnamese dead. Four miles southwest of the city South Vietnamese rangers reported killing 25 Viet Cong at the cost of four wounded troops.

These actions increased enemy casualties in Operation Quyet Thang to more than 1,000 killed since the sweep began March 11.

Ninety-six other enemy troops were reported killed in five battles ranging north to the demilitarized zone Wednesday. One GI died in these clashes and 15 were wounded, while South Vietnamese losses were seven dead and 20 wounded.

The recent slowdown in the fighting after the furious combat of the Communist lunar new year offensive in February was reflected in the weekly casualty report announced today. American, South Vietnamese and enemy casualties last week were all considerably less than they had been the week before.

Casualties announced for last week were: American — 336 killed, 1,916 wounded; South Vietnamese — 267 killed, 962 wounded, 181 missing; Viet Cong and North Vietnamese — 3,070 killed.

The figures the week before were: American — 509 killed, 2,766 wounded; South Vietnamese — 411 killed, 1,199 wounded, 98 missing; Enemy — 5,168 killed.

Gerhardt Eisler Dies In Europe

BERLIN (AP) — Gerhardt Eisler, who fled the United States in 1949 to become a high-ranking East German Communist propagandist, died today, the official East German news agency ADN reported. He was 71.

"Prof. Gerhardt Eisler, member of the Central Committee of the German Socialist Union (Communist) party and chairman of the State Radio Committee died suddenly on the morning of 21 March, during a visit to the Armenian Socialist Soviet Republic," ADN said.

Eisler went to the United States in 1941 from this country and in 1946 was identified as No. 1 communist spy in the United States. Called before a congressional committee, he refused to answer questions and was cited for contempt of Congress. He got a year in jail.

Soon he was given a one-to-three-year sentence for making false statements on a request for a permit to leave this country. He appealed both convictions and was released on bail of $23,500. On May 7, 1949, he paid 25 cents to inspect the Polish liner Batory in New York, then hid until several hours after he had sailed.

Taken off the vessel at Southampton, he eventually was released by the British and went back to Germany.

Kennedy Takes Trip South; McCarthy Tours Wisconsin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy takes his presidential candidacy to the deep South's University of Alabama today where he oversaw racial integration in 1963 as attorney general.

Young Democrats at the Tuscaloosa campus were waiting with an endorsement they'd switched from Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—and a resolution urging McCarthy to get out of the race.

Kennedy, the resolution said, "offers the country a more realistic and in many ways better, alternative to the present administration."

A federal force under the New York Democrat's directorship entered the University of Alabama in June 1963 despite then Gov. George C. Wallace's "schoolhouse door" stand against integration at the Tuscaloosa campus.

McCarthy, meanwhile—with an array of Johnson administration officials campaigning against him in Wisconsin—said he'd like to see the President send his whole cabinet.

"I'd like to have them travel together," McCarthy said. "It would be good for the country to see them all."

Special Elections Called by Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Special elections to fill vacancies in House District 10 (Greene County) and District 23 (Medina and parts of Ashland County) were called by Gov. James W. Rhodes today.

The townships of Ruggles, Troy, Sullivan, Clear Creek, Orange, Jackson, Milton, Montgomery Union and Perry are included in the 23rd District.

The vacancy in the 10th District was caused by the death of the late Herman K. Ankeney of Xenia. The vacancy in the 23rd District will arise April 1 because of the resignation of H. Dennis Dannley of Medina.

The special elections will coincide with the general election next Nov. 5.

Other administration officials scheduled to visit Wisconsin, with the primary nine days away, are Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Robert Weaver.

Deny Navy Model Of F111 Dead Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower says the fate of the F111B—Navy version of the controversial TFX warplane—will hinge on tests of the swing-wing interceptor on aircraft carriers during April.

The Texas Republican, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, disagreed with reports the panel has all but decided even before the carrier tests to deny the Navy's request for $350 million to construct 30 F111Bs.

Tower instead said he thinks the "committee position is fluid right now."

The panel begins today considering the massive Navy procurement request, which includes the proposed F111B authorization.

Pentagon sources, in predicting earlier that the committee would ditch the plane, said the action could come even before Navy engineers report next month on four contractor proposals to replace the F111B.

These sources said airborne maneuverability—rather than its ability to take off and land on carriers—is the main problem dogging the F111B. It reportedly weighs about 80,000 pounds, or about 20,000 more than Navy officials would prefer.

Two admirals testified at a recent hearing that had funds not already been spent on the F111B, they would recommend development of an entirely different plane.

The development of the F111 has been enmeshed in a political hotbed ever since former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara overruled the military and awarded the TFX contract to General Dynamics rather than to Boeing.

$3.3 Billion Fund Request Is Predicted

Money Would Go For More Troops; Debate Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources say the administration is expected soon to ask $3.3 billion more for the Vietnam war, a request likely to spark another round of war policy debate on Capitol Hill.

The sources said Wednesday that about half the still tentative request would be earmarked for sending about 35,000 more U.S. troops to the war zone—a reported manpower move already under sharp congressional attack.

Defense Department officials told Congress in January they didn't anticipate any need for a supplement to defense funds voted last year, barring unforeseen emergencies. But their statements came just days before the Viet Cong launched its massive Tet offensive.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee, said meanwhile that reported advance notice from the White House to key Congress members on troop increases "is exactly the sort of thing I've been complaining about."

Ohio River Bridge Sites Under Study

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — Hearings were held here and across the Ohio River at Point Pleasant, W. Va., Wednesday on proposed sites for a new structure to replace the ill-fated Silver Bridge.

A new span to carry traffic across the river will cost an estimated $12,893,000, Ohio Highway Department officials reported at the public hearing here.

The two hearings were concerned primarily with relocating portions of U.S. 35 in Ohio to link up with the new span. The 64 persons attending the hearing gave unanimous approval to the plan.

But at Point Pleasant, where about 75 persons attended a hearing, there was some objection to the site chosen for the relocated bridge.

Some opponents said the new site downstream at Henderson, W. Va., would pose navigation hazards for barges. Others argued it would be better to put the new span farther upstream, north of Point Pleasant to better serve expected industrial expansion.

The Silver Bridge collapsed Dec. 15, carrying at least 46 persons to their deaths.

Carnes said Wednesday he had a statement from one witness that Capp had a gun, but none was found after the shooting. A hunting knife was found near the youth's body.

Foreign Aid Slashes Urged

Mansfield Wants 'Bare-Bones' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he'll urge the Senate to cut President Johnson's $2.92 billion foreign-aid request "to bare bones."

But Mansfield, a critic of Vietnam war escalation, said in an interview he would oppose any effort to suspend the program for the duration of the Asian conflict.

"The trend in foreign aid is in the right direction—downward," he said. "I believe that it should be cut to bare bones this year. But I do not think it can be cut off entirely. That would only be too abrupt."

President Johnson's 1968 foreign-aid program includes $420 million in military aid. Last year Congress lopped $1 billion off the President's request, voting only $2.2 billion, lowest in the program's 20-year history.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, another Vietnam policy critic, has proposed suspension of all aid to help meet mounting war costs. There are clear indications of strong opposition to the aid authorization in both houses, but administration leaders feel they can salvage a reduced appropriation.

Disgruntled Students Take Over Howard University

WASHINGTON (AP) — Singing and chanting students nearly 1,000 strong have taken over and shut down Howard University in a nonviolent coup, with a spokesman vowing: "We're here for the duration."

The students jammed all four floors of the predominantly Negro university's administration building overnight while others miled outside.

They sang, danced, joined in hand-clap punctuated chants, made speeches and joked in what looked more like a festival than an insurrection.

But the siege took on a more militant tone in a statement issued just after midnight today by students manning the university switchboard.

"There's no telling what might happen whenever the administration gets tired," said Robert Malson, 24. "If they come to recapture the building we can expect some of us will get hurt. But we hope it won't happen.

"When they come we're just going to stay here," said Malson, an economics major. "We're going to stay until our demands are met."

The administration closed the university indefinitely Wednesday and ordered all campus buildings except the student-filled administration building locked.

The demonstration began Tuesday as a sit-in demanding exoneration of 37 students charged with disrupting March 1 Charter Day ceremonies on the campus.

Brown said the protest might end if the charges are dropped. But the emphasis at a student news conference Wednesday was on lack of Negro history and culture courses at the university. Protestors in past months have accused the administration of "Uncle Tom" attitudes.

Berger's Future Eyed by Board

Long range planning for Berger Hospital got off the ground Wednesday night during the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Governors.

A new building, addition of a wing or two, increased lab facilities, and revamping the present floor plan were some of the ideas kicked around.

However, one concrete item did come from the discussion. The Building Committee, headed by Henry Schroeder, was authorized to establish a committee for long range planning. The committee is to include community leaders other than board members. Recommendations for the committee membership are expected at the April meeting.

Air conditioning for the hospital is expected to be completed by June 30, according to reports made at the Wednesday meeting. James Stambaugh, administrator, and Schroeder recently visited hospitals in Cincinnati and Marysville with existing units similar to those to be installed here. They said favorable reports were given on the Remington units by hospital personnel and from their own observations the units were "very satisfactory." The 33 units are to be purchased from the R & R Supply Co., with the G. E. Berry Inc., contracting the installation. The project is expected to cost about $38,000 with $19,200 earmarked for the units and $17,950 for installation.

again to seek accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accredited Hospitals. Mayor Richard Gerhardt spearheaded the discussion and suggested a "test run" inspection be made before applications are filed with JCAH. Gerhardt said the Columbus Federation of Hospitals provides the "test run" service free of charge.

Mayor Gerhardt pointed out the last attempt to seek accreditation was in November of 1959. At that time there was a check list of about 36 items involving the hospital plant and operation that kept Berger off the directory accredited hospitals.

The administrator is to investigate the matter and make arrangements for a "test" inspection.

The board changed its official meeting date from the third Wednesday of the month to the Fourth Wednesday effective in April. The move was made to give the administration more time to complete the previous month's records before presenting them to the board.

Vanik Against Taxes for War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, says he will not vote for additional taxes to escalate the Vietnam war.

"I cannot support a tax increase to expand or escalate the war in South Vietnam nor can I support the termination or further cutback of programs designed to meet the urban crisis and the problems of educating and training Americans to achieve self support."

Vanik made the comment Wednesday following President Johnson's renewed appeal for a tax increase.

Ohio Escapee Nabbed in Detroit

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—One of the three prisoners who escaped from the Trumbull County Jail here Sunday was returned to the jail early today.

The fugitive, Ronald Bube, 19, of Niles, was arrested Wednesday in Detroit, where the other two escapees are being sought. He was held on a robbery charge when he escaped.

Still being sought are Raymond Kellar of Warren and Fred Holbrook of Niles.

Escaped Killer Holds Pair Captive, Flees after Rape

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Escaped killer Winston Moseley held a husband and wife captive for more than an hour today, raped the woman and then fled in their automobile, police said.

He carried a revolver as he left, police said, but it was not determined whether he had ammunition.

Moseley, serving a life sentence for killing a New York City barmaid, escaped from a prison guard Monday at Meyer Memorial Hospital.

Inspector Ralph V. Degenhart, chief of detectives, said that, when Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Eulaga entered a house they own on the city's eastside at 8:15 a.m. today, they found Moseley in a vestibule and holding a revolver he had found in the dwelling. The Kulagas live in nearby Grand Island.

Moseley, 33, bound Kulaga with ropes and took Mrs. Kulaga, 35, to another room. There, Degenhart said she reported, Moseley raped her.

Degenhart said the Kulagas told them Moseley claimed to have broken into the house Wednesday. It was furnished but unoccupied.

Moseley had been serving a life term at Attica State Prison, near here, for the stabbing death in 1964 of Katherine "Kitty" Genevieve, 28, in New York City. After the crime, it was learned that 38 of her neighbors either saw the stabbing or heard her screams, and not one summoned police or tried to aid her.

Moseley was brought to the Buffalo Hospital a week ago for minor surgery. He escaped while being prepared for return to Attica.

The Arkansas Democrat said he had not heard from the White House on the troop-increase reports.

Gen. David M. Shoup, former Marine Corps commandant, appeared before Fulbright's committee to say a military victory in South Vietnam is impossible. He submitted a peace plan proposing that:

1. The United States and South Vietnam ask Hanoi to schedule negotiations, with North Vietnam fixing the degree of participation by the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

2. When the talks start, there would be a halt to U.S.-South Vietnamese offensive operations, with the right reserved to continue observation activities.

3. North Vietnam would not have to halt offensive operations as a condition for talks but refusal to do so would be interpreted by the United States and South Vietnam as meaning Hanoi is not interested in a peaceful settlement.

4. If North Vietnam did halt its offensives, the talks could proceed with the goal of withdrawing U.S. and other outside combat forces from South Vietnam.

Shoup said he submitted this plan last June to then-Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara who told him it would be relayed to the White House. The retired general told newsmen he heard nothing further.

Ohio Assembly Closes Up Shop; Approves Patrol Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In a windup session disrupted by singing welfare demonstrators, the 107th Ohio General Assembly adjourned Wednesday after increasing state patrol manpower and discarding other bills.

Among the measures left to die were a proposed constitutional amendment to permit in-term pay raises for public officials and a controversial and much-amended Senate bill covering elections and bargaining rights for teachers and other school employees.

Disruption of the Senate's session marked the Ohio Steering Committee for Adequate Welfare's second spectacular Statehouse appearance in less than three years.

The committee, involved in the massive welfare march on the Statehouse in the summer of 1966, ended its singing, shouting protest Wednesday only after being herded out of the Senate wing by 10 uniformed highway patrolmen.

"We can't get attention any other way, so we thought we might get some by disrupting the meeting," added Mrs. Marian Dotson of Toledo.

Both were among some 75 persons seeking legislative action to release $8.5 million in Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) funds held up because most Ohio counties have not contributed matching funds.

The committee sought in 1966 to win higher welfare payments and higher state minimums for "health and decency." The march failed to achieve its goals.

The only bill passed in the legislature's last regular day replaced the highway patrol's 850-man ceiling with an 880-man floor, providing 30 more men. Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte said they were needed in the state's new random auto inspection program. House members passed the bill 80-1 and Senators 30-0. Its emergency clause put it into effect less than two hours later when it was signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

House and Senate members adjourned sine die within two minutes of each other. Though the 107th General Assembly remains in existence until Dec. 31, its sine die or final adjournment means it cannot resume sessions unless called back for special action by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff was a member of a panel of police officers at a seminar on law enforcement held Wednesday in Washington, C. H.

The seminar was sponsored by the American Legion and was attended by about 75 persons, including city and county officials.

Serving on the panel with Sheriff Radcliff were Sheriff Don Thompson of Fayette County, Sheriff Russell Bradley of Green County and Police Chief Rodman Scott of Washington, C. H.

Moderator was Don Edwards, Washington Record Herald staff reporter who covers the police beat.

Stock List Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's modest opening advance eroded as the session carried into early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Dow Jones industrial average had risen 1.50 to 832.35 by the end of the first hour. But at the end of the gain was lost by noon, and the indicator was off 0.64 at that time.

Brokers attributed the turnaround to the military flareup in the Middle East.

Trading was moderate on the American Stock Exchange.

The committee sought in 1966 to win higher welfare payments and higher state minimums for "health and decency." The march failed to achieve its goals.

The only bill passed in the legislature's last regular day replaced the highway patrol's 850-man ceiling with an 880-man floor, providing 30 more men. Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte said they were needed in the state's new random auto inspection program. House members passed the bill 80-1 and Senators 30-0. Its emergency clause put it into effect less than two hours later when it was signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

House and Senate members adjourned sine die within two minutes of each other. Though the 107th General Assembly remains in existence until Dec. 31, its sine die or final adjournment means it cannot resume sessions unless called back for special action by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Sheriff Serves On Law Panel

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff was a member of a panel of police officers at a seminar on law enforcement held Wednesday in Washington C. H.

The seminar was sponsored by the American Legion and was attended by about 75 persons, including city and county officials.

Serving on the panel with Sheriff Radcliff were Sheriff Don Thompson of Fayette County, Sheriff Russell Bradley of Green County and Police Chief Rodman Scott of Washington C. H.

Moderator was Don Edwards, Washington Record Herald staff reporter who covers the police beat.

Stock List Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's modest opening advance eroded as the session carried into early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Dow Jones industrial average had risen 1.50 to 832.35 by the end of the first hour. But all of the gain was lost by noon, and the indicator was off 0.64 at that time.

Brokers attributed the turnaround to the military flareup in the Middle East.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 301.9 with industrials off .2, rails up .1 and utilities up .2. Trading was moderate on the American Stock Exchange.

Dear Editor:

I was very honored to have been chosen the 1968 Easter Seal Teen Queen of Pickaway County. It was my privilege to attend the State Kickoff at Hotel Southern on March 3, which was quite an experience.

At this banquet I saw many handicapped children which were very happy and kept smiling. After viewing these children you realize just how lucky you are. I also had the pleasure of spending the day with other Teen Queens from different counties.

I urge everyone to please support the Society for Crippled Children and Adults. I want to thank the Easter Seal Society for providing the opportunity to serve for their country.

creasing their military and economic commitment here to his country, and to share the sacrifice he has ordered 135,000 men be added to the South Vietnamese armed forces.

In a major policy speech, Thieu also itemized government plans to crack down on corruption, which he labeled "a shame for the whole nation and population." He announced the creation of new agencies for national planning and administrative reform.

"Our allies in the free world will give us more military and economic assistance," the president said. "But for our part, I think that we must make great efforts and accept more sacrifices, because, as I have said many times, this is our country, the existence of our nation is at stake, and this is mainly a Vietnamese responsibility."

Thieu did not say what the increased allied aid would be. U.S. congressional sources in Washington say the White House plans to commit another 35,000 troops to Vietnam above the 525,000 now authorized. U.S. troop strength here at last official count was 509,000 men.

South Vietnam has already begun a partial mobilization to fill the expanded military quota. The program involves drafting 18- and 19-year-olds, recalling reservists and veterans and stopping discharges.

The increase would bring South Vietnam's men under arms to 909,000, including both regulars and militiamen. The regular army, navy and air force now total 340,000 men, and the bulk of the 125,000 extras will be assigned to these forces. The United States will equip the new troops.

Turning to corruption, Thieu said he has given strict orders to close permanently "dancing bars and disguised nightclubs which are harmful to our good moral traditions and deprave our youth. The outdoor markets for smuggled and stolen goods (the black market) are to be closed."

Send U.S. Food

SAIGON (AP) — The Catholic Relief Services has announced it is sending 1.5 million pounds of U.S. government-donated food to Hue to feed more than 80,000 needy South Vietnamese. The agency is the overseas aid organization of U.S. Roman Catholics.

Another Last Stand

Seventy property owners in the Haight-Asbury section of San Francisco, legendary mecca of the hippie set, have declared war on the great unwashed segment of society.

"This is a sort of Custer's Last Stand in our neighborhood," said one, adding elaborations. He apparently didn't fear the possibility that there might be too many hippies.

The World Today

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's belated willingness to trim the budget submitted last January is softening some of the opposition to a tax increase.

But it also is giving Republicans some support for their oft-repeated claim that the President is not leveling with Congress on fiscal matters.

GOP spokesmen point to the January budget message which President Johnson said outlined a tight and stringent economic program.

Subsequently, administration spokesmen defended the budget.

In testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said "the President's fiscal program represents a tough policy."

Later, Fowler and Budget Director Charles J. Zwick told the House Appropriations Committee in effect the budget reflected rock bottom figures.

"We were told in almost so many words," a Republican committee member said, "that there was no other place to cut safely; that the figures presented included no so-called fat."

But developments over the past weekend indicate that even the President may have found some substantial "fat."

Over the weekend there were authoritative reports Johnson was planning to cut requests for new appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1 by as much as $9 billion. These reductions would be from the original requests made in January.

In a Minneapolis speech Monday the President confirmed he was working with Congress to seek agreement on major cuts. And he called on Americans to join in "a program of national austerity." That could foreshadow even more cuts than had been planned originally in domestic spending.

The entire budget submitted in January is undergoing a review by executive agencies.

One Republican usually in the know on such matters said a revised budget already is on the President's desk and may be submitted to Congress soon.

"But it will have to call for cuts of far more than $9 billion if we are to avoid economic chaos," he said.

"It may cost many of our seats in Congress," he added, "but we are going to have to increase taxes whether we want to or not."

A chronic foe of tax hikes, especially with an election in the offing, this Republican said politics must be laid aside or the nation will face a worse depression than it had in the 1930s "and it will affect Republicans as well as Democrats."

The two powerful House committee chairmen who have been conferring on economy moves, Wilbur D. Mill of Ways and Means and George H. Mahon of Appropriations, indicated to newsmen they think the $9-billion White House figure is too low. But neither would publicly cite a counterfigure.

The significance of what has happened in the past few days seems to be not that a particular depth of budget cut has been decided on, but that the long-stalled dialogue between White House and Capitol Hill on a tax increase has been resumed.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Any evening of entertainment that has both Bob Hope and Jack Benny in their own acts is a rich entertainment mix, and so it was on NBC Wednesday.

By current standards of TV variety shows, each comedian starred in a program that would have passed muster as one of a weekly series. However, both programs were specials and in jokes, sketches and form, neither was outstanding.

Hope popped into light with a predictable volley of one liners directed at every presidential possibility in sight and New Hampshire received the kind of attention he usually reserves for California.

The sketches included one spoof of "Bonnie and Clyde." No variety show apparently can resist it. There was an exchange concerning golf with Arnold Palmer who may be a wizard of the links but demonstrated that he is something of a duffer when it comes to reading cue cards.

Benny, in his only social of the season, stuffed his show with celebrities. There were Lucille Ball and Johnny Carson as guest stars. There was also an assortment of quick sight gags starring an assortment ranging from the Smother brothers to Den Martin. Since Jack's show was more or less tied to a carnival theme, there was also a chance to insert a sword swallower and a fire eater.

Benny, of course, was the familiar character he has played for three decades of broadcasting—and so was Johnny Carson in a very funny impression of Benny when he played Jack's son with Benny in a sketch. Lucille Ball had her comedy moments, dressed up in a slinky harem costume and singing a siren song about having a man around the house while surrounded by muscle men.

Earlier on "The Avengers" of ABC, a surprise came in the very final moments of the weekly adventure of John Steed and Mrs. Emma Peel. Through all these seasons of summer replacements, it was understood that the swinging Mrs. Peel was a footloose if not exactly fancy free widow. Last night, her husband turned up. Instead of being dead in a plane crash, he was lost all these years in the jungle. So Mrs. Peel, a little regretfully, went obediently off to the joys of housewifery—and Miss Diana Rigg who played the part, was on her way back to the stage and movies.

The episode was concerned mostly with shooting people with a drug pellet that produced amnesia and with lots of fights, but it did introduce the new girl in Steed's life. She is a very pretty, wide-eyed brunette named Linda Thorson and plays an agent named Tara King. She demonstrated at the outset that she is not as good at hand-to-hand fighting as Mrs. Peel. Fans of the droll series undoubtedly will take the switch-over in stride. The show is remarkable in the way it makes the most vicious evil-doing and prolonged slug fests seem part of a sprightly little comedy.

Bea Benadaret

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Yes, it's lovely on the desert today," said Bea Benadaret, speaking on the telephone from Palm Springs. "But then, every day is beautiful to me."

Miss Benadaret, star of television's long-running "Petticoat Junction" spoke with understandable feeling. She said doctors have told her that a tumor on her lung has been dissolved by radiation treatment.

The actress did not make any predictions for the future. "But I do know that I feel fine, better than I have felt in years," she said. "They tell me the spot on my lung has disappeared, and I believe them."

Long one of the busiest performers of radio and television, Miss Benadaret had lived with the threat of cancer for five years. During a routine check-up, a spot was discovered on her lung, then it disappeared. Her doctors remained vigilant, and she was X-rayed at least every three months. Meanwhile she cut down her usual quota of three-to-four packs of cigarettes a day.

"Three weeks before last Thanksgiving, I had another X-ray, and the spot had reappeared," she said. "The doctors told me to come back in two weeks for another look. The spot had grown."

Meanwhile she was in the midst of shooting the fifth season of "Petticoat Junction." She told none of the company of her ailment and resisted urgings by her doctor for immediate surgery; she was concerned that her absence would imperil the show. Finally her family prevailed upon her to undergo the operation. It took place Nov. 26. Afterward, she related, the lung surgeon told her, "I found the tumor, but I have to tell you I could do nothing about it."

"Why?" she asked. "Because if I did, you would be an invalid for the rest of your life."

Treatment was recommended at Stanford University Hospital, where she was subjected to a linear accelerator, a super-voltage method of radiation.

"They warned me that there could be side effects as a result of the treatment," she said. "But that I might avoid them. Somehow I did. Oh, I was debilitated, of course, but I was never prone. I was able to walk during the entire six and a half weeks of treatments, five days a week."

"I went up there convinced that the treatments would work. Maybe I was stupid, or maybe I had simply developed a faith in the fantastic outpouring of prayer and expressions of hope that I received from so many people. The mail was stacked so high you wouldn't believe it. I think the outcome means either that God has chosen me to live or that there is great power in prayer."

Doctors recommended a desert recuperation, and she has been staying at Palm Springs with her husband, Eugene Twombly. She has been swimming, sunning, knitting, reading and—watching TV.

SPEAKING about all the polls being taken to ascertain the degree of public approval of our Viet Nam policy, don't overlook the one reported from an Indian reservation in New Mexico. Twenty-one per cent of the people questioned there thought we should get out of Viet Nam. Ninety-nine per cent thought we should get out of New Mexico.

Harking back to the Chicago World's Fair of 1893, the standout attraction of the whole affair was a buxom belly dancer named "Little Egypt." Well, her great-granddaughter is plying the same trade to this very day, and doing very nicely at it, too. Only thing bothering her mind at the moment is the unpopularity of Egypt in general and Nasser in particular. In fact, if there isn't a settlement soon, 1968's Little Egypt may well change her name to Little Israel!

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our 3-year-old child has been in perfect health except for an occasional cold or intestinal upset. She has had all the routine childhood vaccinations and boosters without any unusual aftermath.

Last week she developed a fever which quickly rose to 105 degrees and with it came a convulsion which lasted for a few minutes and never again returned.

We are terrified that this may leave some permanent scar on her physical and mental growth. I know my husband feels just as frightened, but we don't discuss it because of our terror. What might have caused this and can any after-effects be prevented?

Mrs. C. H., California

Dear Mrs. H.: It is terrifying to witness any convulsion, especially in a child. I am certain that the doctor who treated your daughter must have assured you that this is not an unusual occurrence in children with high fever.

I have seen many children with fever as high as 103 or 104 degrees caused by an attack of tonsillitis which is followed by a convulsive seizure. Rarely, if ever, are children left with any aftermath of a single convulsion that has adequately been explained.

A convulsion of this sort does not affect the physical or emotional growth of the child. Parents must be reassured that this single experience will not scar their child's growth or progress.

Even though this single convulsion is never regarded as serious, certain neurological examinations should be performed to rule out the possibility of other types of organic brain disease. The brain wave test, or electroencephalogram, blood studies and X-rays of the skull will usually reveal the fact that there is no underlying serious reason for a single convulsion.

Repeated convulsions must, of course, be immediately studied so that the underlying reason may be found and adequately treated with anti-convulsant drugs.

My daughter is a professional model. In order to keep herself thin to the point of emaciation

She has been taking an injection of Vitamin B twice a week and insists that that is sufficient to keep her in good health. How long can this continue without causing a complete physical breakdown?

Mr. G. V., Illinois

Dear Mr. V.: Every parent is concerned about how their children survive on diets that appear inadequate. The anxiety of the parents becomes so great that they become compulsive eaters themselves and put on all the weight their children should be gaining.

I am always amazed how well these beautiful young models maintain their good health even on very restricted diets. The reason is probably is that the are directed to include all the basic foods like milk, butter, eggs, meat, starches and fats in moderation. A well-balanced diet can keep them in a state of good nutritional balance.

I do not feel, however, that the regular injections of Vitamin B complex is essential. This is a strange game that is played by many people in all occupations.

They virtually come begging the doctor for the pick-me-up shot of Vitamin B which may give them a temporary feeling of vitality and strength. This is entirely artificial and has no real, solid basis in fact.

Vitamin supplements taken by mouth are absorbed quickly and last perhaps longer than those given directly in the vein or by injection into the muscle.

There may be some psychological advantage for those who benignly believe that they are getting a "rejuvenation shot" when in reality all they need is a solid diet. Fortunately, the body rejects excess Vitamin B. It is very wise and knows just what its vitamin needs are.

Many medicines lose their potency when kept too long. Most important drugs are labeled to show the expiration date.

A Scottish parliament decreed in Leap Year 1228 that any single man refusing an offer of marriage from a maiden "shall be mulcted in ye sum" of one pound or less according to his means.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen have sharpened their attitudes on the war in Vietnam in recent weeks, even breaking into surprisingly open opposition and lending strength to at least one large antiwar group.

"In business, if you adopt a strategy for results and maintain that strategy for 36 months and find you're no further along than when you started, then it makes no sense to continue with the same strategy," is a typical opposition remark.

This comment was made by Henry Niles, chairman of the Baltimore Life Insurance Co., and co-chairman of Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace, a growing organization which wants de-escalation and eventual disengagement from the war.

Articles in business publications, in stock market advisories, in public statement and private conversation of businessmen prove that the war has become the paramount issue in business.

Not all this concern is expressed as opposition. Some are non-committal and some are hawks. Reasons for concern vary also, from moral and legal to the mainly economic consideration that the war is becoming bad for business and bearish for the stock market.

Whereas government spending spurred the economy in previous years, it is causing inflation now. It has pushed up interest rates, worsened the balance of payment, and brings with it the threat of economic controls.

The recent enemy offensive and the gold drain apparently have played large roles in this growing concern. But the enticing prospect of a strong peacetime economy has encouraged some interest also.

"Peace in Vietnam would be the greatest imaginable blessing—and in addition, substantial economic benefits would accrue." So began an eight-page study of "Peace in Vietnam" by Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, a brokerage house.

In any brokerage house analysis the advice on a course of action generally is restricted to stocks, as it is in this example, but it is difficult to overlook the sense of anticipation in statements like his from the Paine, Webber study:

"Peace will afford each of us the opportunity for an economic re-emphasis on peacetime pursuits... and the satisfaction of increased demand for all the things and services to which we aspire in our affluent society."

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, also noncommittal, has just completed what it terms a major study showing de-escalation in Vietnam will cause only minor economic dislocations.

Antiwar feeling escalates from these neutral positions. The Wall Street Journal shocked some readers when it expressed sorrow about escalation and suggested that "every-one had better be prepared for the bitter taste of a defeat beyond America's power to prevent."

Forbes magazine set out to interview a money expert, Mariner Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, on interest rates and inflation. Eccles prefaced his remarks by saying, "You can't separate the financial situation from the whole social and political background."

Eccles then went into a heated denunciation of the war. "The Fed has been doing a good job," he said. "Now this war has upset the whole damn show."

The Federal Reserve, sometimes called the Fed is faced with maintaining stability despite the handicaps of a budget deficit, a balance of payments deficit and the resulting threat of a damaging siege of inflation. "As I said earlier," Eccles continued, "all of this broad spectrum of problems can only ultimately be solved by our getting out of Vietnam."

In Defense of Mexico

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

I feel sorry for Mexico. The country endured a long revolutionary period which, after many tribulations, turned out rather well. Mexico never went Communist, it succeeded in enfranchising its Indian and mestizo populations, and it has created a new and prosperous middle class. Its industries are sprouting, its tourist business is expanding, and its currency is stable. It has what amounts to a one-party political system, but there is democracy within the party, and political careers are open to talent. Having "made it," the Mexicans have been looking forward to a pleasant and profitable experience as the host country to this year's Olympics. They are risking more than $70 million on the show.

But instead of extending a helping hand to a Latin American country that took the leadership way back in 1910 in putting racism—in this case anti-Indian and anti-mestizo racism—in its place, one of the more extreme "black power" advocates in the United States persists in trying to drum up a boycott of the Olympics. The boycott movement has jumped the seas to Africa, where some of the new sub-Saharan nations have begged at competing against South African athletes even though South Africa has promised to integrate its team.

The object of the boycotts, of course, is to strike a blow for black freedom here and in South Africa. But the practical effect is to hurt Mexico, a country that has been more decent about combating racism than any other nation in the western hemisphere outside of Brazil.

What must bug any rational human being about the proposed boycotts is the way they turn the abstract best into an enemy of the relative good. Professor Harry Edwards, the Negro sociologist who started the boycott movement by inducing college Negro basketball and track stars to reject Olympic bids, is quite correct when he says that race relations in the U. S. can stand improvement. Some white troglodytes did an unconscionable thing when, in an effort to strike at the professor, they killed his cat, as reported in the New York Post. This was contemptibly dirty pool. But the divisiveness that unleashed the cat-killers was an escalation of the divisiveness set in motion by Professor Edwards' attempt to politicize a sports event that is supposed to break down the barrier between the races and the nations.

The "best" in the United States would be complete amity among the races. The "good" is what we have been experiencing ever since Jackie Robinson broke into organized major league baseball twenty-one years ago. But what Professor Edwards is saying is that nobody should accept the "good" until the day of the "best" is already here. This is a form of Utopianism that provokes the anti-Utopianism of the hoodlums who killed the professor's cat. The reflex of such hoodlumism is to make this columnist, who is a cat-lover, want to kill the cat killers. But if I were to act on my feelings, I would be held for murder in my own turn.

When this business of trying to force social improvement by setting up perfectionist standards gets started, there is no end to the destruction it can wreak at the expense of what is at least relatively good. If I were to act as Harry Edwards has acted, I would be out in the streets trying to drum up a boycott of the Olympics if any of the Iron Curtain countries are permitted to compete. The Soviets have put many of my intellectual blood brothers among the writers into prison camps and insane asylums, so why, if I were to follow Edwards' reasoning, should I countenance any contact with representatives of a nation which would do such a thing? The answer to this question is that the Soviet athletes aren't to blame for what the Moscow Politburo does to poets and journalists.

If U. S. Negroes are to boycott their country for not having a perfectionist record in race relations, why not boycott Britain because it bars the door to Kenya Indians who actually have British passports? And, since anti-Semitism has just cropped up again in Poland, how can Jewish athletes think of competing against Polish athletes at Mexico City?

At this rate, there would never again be any Olympics. Meanwhile, Mexico, an unoffending country, may be left holding a large and empty bag. Thus injustice is done in the name of justice, and the idiot revolution wags on.

Mexico never went Communist, it succeeded in enfranchising its Indian and mestizo populations, and it has created a new and prosperous middle class. Its industries are sprouting, its tourist business is expanding, and its currency is stable. It has what amounts to a one-party political system, but there is democracy within the party, and political careers are open to talent. Having "made it," the Mexicans have been looking forward to a pleasant and profitable experience as the host country to this year's Olympics. They are risking more than $70 million on the show.

But instead of extending a helping hand to a Latin American country that took the leadership way back in 1910 in putting racism—in this case anti-Indian and anti-mestizo racism—in its place, one of the more extreme "black power" advocates in the United States persists in trying to drum up a boycott of the Olympics. The boycott movement has jumped the seas to Africa, where some of the new sub-Saharan nations have boggled at competing against South African athletes even though South Africa has promised to integrate its team.

The object of the boycotts, of course, is to strike a blow for black freedom here and in South Africa. But the practical effect is to hurt Mexico, a country that has been more decent about combating racism than any other nation in the western hemisphere outside of Brazil.

What must bug any rational human being about the proposed boycotts is the way they turn the abstract best into an enemy of the relative good. Professor Harry Edwards, the Negro sociologist who started the boycott movement by inducing college Negro basketball and track stars to reject Olympic bids, is quite correct when he says that race relations in the U. S. can stand improvement. Some white troglodytes did an unconscionable thing when, in an effort to strike at the professor, they killed his cat, as reported in the New York Post. This was contemptibly dirty pool. But

At this rate, there would never be any Olympics. Meanwhile, Mexico, an unfending country, may be left holding a large and empty bag. Thus injustice is done in the name of justice, and the idiot revolution wags on.

When this business of trying to force social improvement by setting up perfectionist standards gets started, there is no end to the destruction it can wreak at the expense of what is at least relatively good. If I were to act as Harry Edwards has acted, I would be out in the streets trying to drum up a boycott of the Olympics if any of the Iron Curtain countries are permitted to compete. The Soviets have put many of my intellectual blood brothers among the writers into prison camps and insane asylums, so why, if I were to follow Edwards's reasoning, should I countenance any contact with representatives of a nation which would do such a thing?

The answer to this question is that the Soviet athletes aren't to blame for what the Moscow Politburo does to poets and journalists.

If U. S. Negroes are to boycott their country for not having a perfectionist record in race relations, why not boycott Britain because it bars the door to Kenya Indians who actually have British passports? And, since anti-Semitism has just cropped up again in Poland, how can Jewish athletes think of competing against Polish athletes at Mexico City?

At this rate, there would never

King March, Vote To Coincide

WASHINGTON (AP) — "If Martin Luther King is calling the shots around here," growled the congressman, "we might as well pack up and go home."

But whether the congressman likes it or not, King is exerting a strong albeit indirect influence on the plans of House leaders to vote on the Senate-passed civil rights bill with its controversial open-housing provision.

King is scheduled to lead a "Poor People's March" to Washington starting April 22. The House leaders want the bill passed and at the White House by then.

They are convinced that the House, resentful at anything it regards as an attempt to pressure it into acting, would kill the bill if called on to vote during King's demonstration.

That was a key factor in their decision to rush the bill through the House Rules Committee this week and vote on it next week with no changes permitted.

But that plan was all but wrecked Tuesday.

The Rules Committee, instead of rushing it to the floor, voted to hold it until April 9, just two days before the House is due to take a 10-day Easter recess. It is unlikely the House could complete action on the bill in two days.

And when does the House reconvene? April 22, the same day King is due to lead his march into town for the announced purpose of tying up the capital through civil disobedience.

Garden Gossip and Helpful Hints

"The Lady by the Lake"

Today is the first day of Spring. No better way to greet the new season than to have the garden gossip start.

Robins, a harbinger of spring, were everywhere as the Mister and I drove around the county on Sunday afternoon. If you haven't been up to Deer-creek Dam lately you are in for a big surprise! The engineers have really made an impressive sight in Pickaway County.

So many calls and so many sights of colors, the bulbs of spring have really taken over the scene. It is a real pleasure to look at all the yards and see nature's colors of yellow, blue and white.

Your former garden editor, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones of Route 4, told me this past week she hoped to spend a good share of her time in her garden. Elizabeth hopes to skip the swimming lessons too; but I have an idea a few cute little boys and girls ask and away we go! Right?

Mrs. Howard Judd (Diane) of Northwood is an avid gardener as anyone can be. Her many bulbs showed their heads by the end of February, and she picked her first blossom around the eleventh and it was a jonquil.

The Ernest Youngs on Georgia Road have numerous crocus in bloom when I talked to her last week. Her many bulbs were in a sheltered spot by her back door and consisted of a large clump of jonquils in bloom.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Noggle of W. Union St., spent January in Florida and came home to a garden of early flowers. Her brave little "Winter Aconites" with their four petaled yellow blossoms came up late this year and then the sleet and snow of last week made them a sorry sight. Being a flower of late winter, nature has made them grow close to the ground and they are protected. They are a ground cover and grow only an inch high with shiny green leaves. Seeding themselves they spread and after a dull winter such as we have had this year they are an absolute delight. Snowdrops were part of the Noggles garden, but due to the severe cold winter their stems are only an inch high instead of five or six inches.

Everyone seemed to be so worried about their evergreens. They are very dry and very much wind burned, it is not too early to start watering. Not much can be done for the wind burning.

Our pussy willow tree is over loaded with catkins this year and such large heads on them. They started coming out in January when we had the thaw. Cold weather did not bother them at all.

wait until she moved back into her own home on W. Franklin St. Living in an apartment was nice and handy, but not enough yard. One day last fall in passing her apartment there was Vangie out digging around the sidewalks of the tiny front yard. She will be working out in the yard, so if you are downtown stop and say hello to her.

With Spring here today, it is only 280 days 'til Christmas is what the poinsettias in all the windows in Circleville seem to say. Circleville homes are most certainly brightened by so many blossoms. Nice that they can be kept while in bloom in an east window and passersby can enjoy them too! Poinsettias can be put in the ground when all danger of frost is gone.

Talked to Mr. Joe Bell about trimming bushes and shrubs and he told me it should not be done until July, as the new growth is where the blossoms are forming.

At this time of year catch some rain water for your indoor plants and watch them perk up!

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fox on Route 3 near Hargus Lake had on the top side of their drive way three flowering Kats. They stayed colorful until almost Christmas. I stopped and asked Mr. Fox one day where had he acquired the plants or seed and his daughter had planted them for him and he did not know where she had picked them up.

Thank you Dr. Swope on North Pickaway Street for the sight of a beautiful green lawn in the bleakest of winters. It drew Oh's and Ah's from everyone who saw it. What's his secret will be asked of him over and over. Such a delight when lawns and fields are so brown. The fields of winter wheat and winter grain turned brown this year and stayed that way.

Let's all help to keep Pickaway County and the City of Circleville clean, neat and beautiful. We Hansons are lucky people. We get to travel to the west coast and back each year because we have family out there, and each state and city had its own attractions, but somehow and for many reasons Circleville seems such a neat and colorful town and most homes so trim.

Most of the citizens seem so interested in their yards and homes it is always a real pleasure to come home.

The James Scotts usual picture is holding up to its reputation, noticed a lot of flowers in bloom, and there will be a lot more, I am sure.

Time To Break Up Cozy Foursome

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I am in love with my best friend's husband. I'll call him "R." He loves me too, but he also thinks the world of his wife and children.

I have a wonderful husband, and I could never hurt him. We also have children. I know that all "R" and I can ever hope for are a few stolen hours of happiness together, but that's better than nothing.

We know our love is wrong and we have tried staying away from each other, but we can't for long. But how can we stop?

DEAR WAUKEGAN: You will have to break up the foursome before you can break up the twosome. Your family or R's will have to move out of town. And the sooner the better. And the farther, the healthier.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that when folks ask a clergyman to officiate at a wedding or a funeral, or any other occasion where the services of a clergyman are required, they tell him to please make it "short and sweet?"

Most folks are in such a big hurry nowadays they don't even want to take time to make a ceremony official.

DEAR IRKED: If you have ever been victimized by a clergyman who took advantage of a captive audience while performing a "service," you wouldn't have asked that question. If you haven't, you're lucky.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't advise me to ask the man down at the bank because he'll probably think this is a very dumb question for a grown woman to ask.

After being a widow for one year I married again. My first husband handled all the finances and I never wrote a check out in my life. (I didn't even know how.) My lawyer wanted to make sure nobody took COUNT, only one signature is new husband's, so he suggested we get a JOINT CHECKING account, which we did.

My question is, does a check have to have BOTH signatures on it to be good? All the money is mine, so why should I have to chase all over town to find my husband and get HIS signature on a check if I want to draw some money out of our account? On the other hand, if only one signature is necessary, that means my husband could go ahead and draw out any amount he wants without MY signature. So where does the protection for me come in? Thank you.

DEAR BEWILDERED: No question is "dumb." Certainly not in this one. In the case of a JOINT CHECKING ACCOUNT, only one signature is necessary. However, in special cases, if arrangements are made at the bank specifying that both signatures are necessary, your husband's signature will not be valid without yours. Since all the money is yours and you want "protection" why not ask your banker to honor YOUR signature on a check, but not your husband's unless yours accompanies his?

House Stalls Rights Bill

King March, Vote To Coincide

WASHINGTON (AP) — "If Martin Luther King is calling the shots around here," growled the congressman, "we might as well pack up and go home."

But whether the congressman likes it or not, King is exerting a strong albeit indirect influence on the plans of House leaders to vote on the Senate-passed civil rights bill with its controversial open-housing provision.

King is scheduled to lead a "Poor People's March" on Washington starting April 22. The House leaders want the bill passed and at the White House by then.

They are convinced that the House, resentful at anything it regards as an attempt to pressure it into acting, would kill the bill if called on to vote during King's demonstration.

That was a key factor in their decision to rush the bill through the House Rules Committee this week and vote on it next week with no changes permitted.

But that plan was all but wrecked Tuesday. The Rules Committee, instead of rushing it to the floor, voted to hold it until April 9, just two days before the House is due to take a 10-day Easter recess. It is unlikely the House could complete action on the bill in two days.

And when does the House convene? April 22, the same day King is due to lead his march into town for the announced purpose of tying up the capital through civil disobedience.

Garden Gossip and Helpful Hints

Today is the first day of Spring. No better way to greet the new season than to have the garden gossip start.

Robins, a harbinger of spring, were everywhere as the Mister and I drove around the county on Sunday afternoon. If you haven't been up to Deer-creek Dam lately you are in for a big surprise! The engineers have really made an impressive sight in Pickaway County.

So many calls and so many sights of colors, the bulbs of spring have really taken over the scene. It is a real pleasure to look at all the yards and see nature's colors of yellow, blue and white.

Your former garden editor, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones of Route 4, told me this past week she hoped to spend a good share of her time in her garden. Elizabeth hopes to skip the swimming lessons too; but I have an idea a few cute little boys and girls ask and away we go! Right?

Mrs. Howard Judd (Diane) of Northwood is an avid gardener as anyone can be. Her many bulbs showed their heads by the end of February, and she picked her first blossom around the eleventh and it was a jonquil.

The Ernest Youngs on Georgia Road have numerous crocus in bloom when I talked to her last week. Her many bulbs were in a sheltered spot by her back door and consisted of a large clump of jonquils in bloom.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Noggle of W. Union St., spent January in Florida and came home to a garden of early flowers. Her brave little "Winter Aconites" with their four petaled yellow blossoms came up late this year and then the sleet and snow of last week made them a sorry sight. Being a flower of late winter, nature has made them grow close to the ground and they are protected. They are a ground cover and grow only an inch high with shiny green leaves. Seeding themselves they spread and after a dull winter such as we have had this year they are an absolute delight. Snowdrops were part of the Noggles garden, but due to the severe cold winter their stems are only an inch high instead of five or six inches.

Everyone seemed to be so worried about their evergreens. They are very dry and very much wind burned, it is not too early to start watering. Not much can be done for the wind browning.

Our pussy willow tree is over loaded with catkins this year and such large heads on them. They started coming out in January when we had the thaw. Cold weather did not bother them at all.

wait until she moved back into her own home on W. Franklin St. Living in an apartment was nice and handy, but not enough yard. One day last fall in passing her apartment there was Vangie out digging around the sidewalks of the tiny front yard. She will be working out in the yard, so if you are downtown stop and say hello to her.

With Spring here today, it is only 280 days 'til Christmas is what the poinsettias in all the windows in Circleville seem to say. Circleville homes are most certainly brightened by so many blooms. Nice that they can be kept while in bloom in an east window and passersby can enjoy them too! Poinsettias can be put in the ground when all danger of frost is gone.

Talked to Mr. Joe Bell about trimming bushes and shrubs and he told me it should not be done until July, as the new growth is where the blossoms are forming.

At this time of year catch some rain water for your indoor plants and watch them perk up!

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fox on Route 3 near Hargus Lake had on the top side of their drive way three flowering Kate. They stayed colorful until almost Christmas. I stopped and asked Mr. Fox one day where had he acquired the plants or seed and his daughter had planted them for him and he did not know where she had picked them up.

Thank you Dr. Swope on North Pickaway Street for the sight of a beautiful green lawn in the bleakest of winters. It drew Oh's and Ah's from everyone who saw it. What's his secret will be asked of him over and over. Such a delight when lawns and fields are so brown. The fields of winter wheat and winter grain turned brown this year and stayed that way.

Let's all help to keep Pickaway County and the City of Circleville clean, neat and beautiful. We Hansons are lucky people. We get to travel to the west coast and back each year because we have family out there, and each state and city had its own attractions, but somehow and for many reasons Circleville seems such a neat and colorful town and most homes so trim.

Most of the citizens seem so interested in their yards and homes it is always a real pleasure to come home.

COWHIDE EMBOSSED with "frog" graining in off-white shades fashions late day bag with tasseled silver chain handles and jeweled drop earring closing. The white kid 8-button gloves are washable.

CALF LEATHER status bag in soft taupe shade is big and roomy, has chic sophisticated lines, two outside pockets and is great for town and travel wear.

By TAD ROWADY

What's the right type of handbag for Spring? There is none! That is there's no one particular size or shape — but there are lots of delightful bags to suit all tastes — from the ultra feminine ones to the casual sports and gala types.

To go along with the present day trends in skirts and silhouettes, American leather handbags are minis, midis and maxis. Their shapes are slim, fit - and-flare, chunky, boxy, elongated, accordion - pleated, tailored and casual. Some even are made up in triquet form on chain or leather handles.

According to Leather Industries of America, there is a myriad of leather textures including the embossed frog or turtle grainings on calf and cowhide. Colors are delicious and plentiful. They report that never before have handbag fashions been so purely individual. The handbag you prefer for any specific occasion is surely to come in several types of American leathers and colors.

The small handbag for the most part for daytime wear is gradually losing its lead and being replaced by the bigger more commodious and more efficient, functional size.

If you are a career woman

you will undoubtedly select the larger size with outside pockets similar to the one illustrated here to handle the overflow and for quick access to such small items as keys, handkerchiefs, pens, notebooks or even a lorgnette for looking up a telephone number.

If you are purely social and run into town for luncheon or an early dinner, naturally the small satchel or triquet bag is fine. Even a flat envelope will suffice provided it is roomy enough to hold the inevitable wallet, credit cards, driver's license and glasses.

The choice is yours. So make your handbag wardrobe a many - splendored thing with types to go along with the current fashion trends in clothes. You'll be short on boredom and long on fun.

Trailmakers Class Meeting Scheduled

Trailmakers Class of Calvary EUB Church will hold a white elephant sale during its Tuesday meeting.

All members are urged to attend the meeting which begins 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Oarus Hively, 224 Sherwood Drive.

Logan Elm Garden Club Holds Session

Logan Elm Garden Club held its March meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Kester McCain, Route 4. Nine members and one guest, Miss Barbara McCain were present.

Meditation was presented by Mrs. McCain, using passages from the book of John and reading an Irish prayer.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Lawrence McKenzie. She announced that the spring regional meeting of district 9, of the Ohio Assn. of Garden Clubs, will be held May 1, at Wagnall Memorial in Lithopolis. All members were urged to attend.

A card was read concerning a meeting of the Pickaway County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. to be held April 2, at the First Methodist Church. Dr. William Myers will speak on "Respiratory Diseases."

For the program Mrs. McKenzie used as her subject, "Your Power Mower — Friend and Foe." A discussion followed with safety rules stressed in the use of a power mower.

The chance gift was brought by Mrs. Clarence Maxson and won by Mrs. Wayne Morris.

Dawn Bidwell Receives DAR Award

DAWN CHERYL BIDWELL

Dawn Cheryl Bidwell, a seventh grade student at Jackson Twp. School, has received first place award for the State of Ohio from the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, in its essay contest.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Bidwell, Route 1, Williamsport, she was one of 256 participants in the February American History Month Essay Contest. She used as her subject, "Thomas Alva Edison, The Wizard of Menlo Park."

This project is held by the DAR to recognize and advance interest in the minds and hearts of school children in the study of local, state and national history. Students from grade 5 through 8 participate in the essay contest.

Best results in support of the aims of the society in historic, educational and patriotic subjects have been secured through cooperation of chapters with school authorities. Each year a given historic subject is assigned. The subject for 1968 was "An American Inventor."

The most recent recipient of first place in the state award through Pickaway Plains Chapter DAR was Kathy Macklin, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. George F. Macklin. The award was made in 1964 when Kathy was in the eighth grade. The subject that year was "Thomas Jefferson."

When you are blanching almonds, don't let the nut soak in the boiling water. A short stay of several minutes should make it easy for you to slip off the brown skins.

PIGGY-BACK — Not the latest College craze, but a part of a number being rehearsed for the "High Fever Follies." Some of Circleville's most talented citizens will be doing skits, songs, and dances in this year's "Follies" show. Tickets may be purchased from local merchants or guild members and exchanged for reserved seats at The Savings Bank. Performances are March 28, 29 and 30. Proceeds go to the Berger Hospital General Guild.

Everyday Roles Altered For 'High Fever Follies'

They may be engineers, milkmen, doctors, pharmacists, or homemakers most of the time, but during the "Follies" rehearsals they make like Carol Channing, Marge and Gower Champion, or Andy Williams. A huge cast is involved in the skits, songs and dances which make up this year's "Follie" show.

Four years ago, the first venture into show business by the hospital guilds was met with a huge success and a very entertaining show. A similar production was done two years ago and met with equal success and quality performances. This year's program, with its variety, clever skits and good choreography should prove the best show yet.

phy are busy getting everyone fitted into the right costume. The outfits are provided by the Jerome Cargill Producing Organization of New York City to assure a completely "professional - looking" performance. Carla Clark, meanwhile, is collecting all the props needed for the various numbers.

Chris Carter, the director from New York, is doing a fine job getting the show in shape. He can teach everything from pantomime to dance steps. Providing the music each morning and evening is Patti Morris, the rehearsal pianist.

Tickets are now on sale and must be exchanged for reserved seats at the Savings Bank between March 21 and 28. Tickets are also available at the following places: Dr. Paul Teegardin, The Children's Shop, Bingman's Drugs, Super X Drugs, Sharff's, Anderson's Coffee Shop, Palm's Carry Out, Berger Hospital Gift Shop, Block's Shoe Store, Risch Drugs, Gracille's Beauty Shop, Eileen's Beauty Shop, Owens - Illinois, Dailey's, South Central Power Office, Savings Bank, all Guild members, and the cast.

Soviet Ships Plan Visit To India

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. naval strategists are expressing concern that an impending visit by Soviet warships to Indian ports may be a first move toward a Soviet penetration of the vital Indian Ocean area.

The United States keeps no Navy vessels in the Indian Ocean and U.S. admirals and diplomats fear the planned British pull-out east of Suez will leave a vacuum into which the Soviets may step.

Naval strategists say this would be a further extension of Soviet naval power which Moscow has been sending far and wide in the last few years.

A 19,000-ton Soviet cruiser of the Sverdlov class and two guided-missile destroyers are due to drop anchor at Madras and Bombay late this month and early in April.

The visit appears to underscore a closer relationship between the Indian and Soviet navies and greater cooperation between the two countries.

Calvary EUB Church Class Session Held

Dorcas Pathfinders Class of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church held its March meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Harry Betz, 105 Reber Ave.

Mrs. G. H. Niswender, in charge of devotions, read from the book of Isaiah and presented the opening prayer.

Thank-you notes were read from Jeannie Dean, Kathleen Jones, Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach, of the Circleville Home and Hospital, and patients at the Otterbein Home for flowers and gifts sent to them.

Two potted plants will be purchased for the church sanctuary at Easter. The plants will later be given to shut-ins. Mrs. Clara DeLong and Mrs. Leona Valentine will continue to serve on the flower committee. An offering was given to the "One Hour of Sharing" program.

Mrs. Niswender was in charge of games won by Vivian Hudnell and Mildred Stewart.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Betz.

The June meeting will be held in the church basement with a covered dish dinner served at 12 noon. Mrs. Florence Wise, Mrs. Myrtle Leist and Mrs. Leona Valentine were named on the committee for the dinner. Mrs. Harry Betz will be in charge of devotions and the social hour. Members are requested to bring a guest to this meeting.

Valuable Dime Is Recovered From Meter

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Ever put too much money in a parking meter or put in change and had nothing happen? Then you'll appreciate the plight of John Clayton, 13.

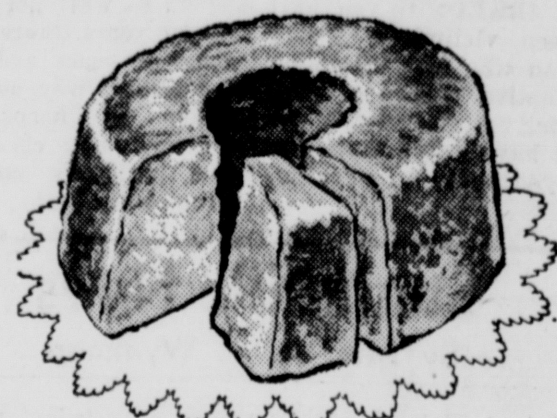

John took a penny from his mother to put in the meter in front of a coin shop where he was going to let an expert look at his prize 1873 Arrows-type dime.

You guessed it. Subsequently, for the first time in memory of Santa Monica meter collectors, a patron actually demanded his money back. The request filtered up Wednesday to city Treasurer Kay Watanabe and was granted.

The youth, elated at the recovery and also tardy for school, rushed off with the dime — which the coin expert said in quick glance could be worth $150 or more.

Calvary EUB Church Class Session Held

Dorcas Pathfinders Class of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church held its March meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Harry Betz, 105 Reber Ave.

Mrs. G. H. Niswender, in charge of devotions, read from the book of Isaiah and presented the opening prayer.

Thank-you notes were read from Jeannie Dean, Kathleen Jones, Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach, of the Circleville Home and Hospital, and patients at the Otterbein Home for flowers and gifts sent to them.

Two potted plants will be purchased for the church sanctuary at Easter. The plants will later be given to shut-ins. Mrs. Clara DeLong and Mrs. Leona Valentine will continue to serve on the flower committee. An offering was given to the "One Hour of Sharing" program.

Mrs. Niswender was in charge of games won by Vivian Hudnell and Mildred Stewart.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Betz.

The June meeting will be held in the church basement with a covered dish dinner served at 12 noon. Mrs. Florence Wise, Mrs. Myrtle Leist and Mrs. Leona Valentine were named on the committee for the dinner. Mrs. Harry Betz will be in charge of devotions and the social hour. Members are requested to bring a guest to this meeting.

Soviet Ships Plan Visit To India

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. naval strategists are expressing concern that an impending visit by Soviet warships to Indian ports may be a first move toward a Soviet penetration of the vital Indian Ocean area.

The United States keeps no Navy vessels in the Indian Ocean and U.S. admirals and diplomats fear the planned British pull-out east of Suez will leave a vacuum into which the Soviets may step.

Naval strategists say this would be a further extension of Soviet naval power which Moscow has been sending far and wide in the last few years.

A 19,000-ton Soviet cruiser of the Sverdlov class and two guided-missile destroyers are due to drop anchor at Madras and Bombay late this month and early in April.

The visit appears to underscore a closer relationship between the Indian and Soviet navies and greater cooperation between the two countries.

Valuable Dime Is Recovered From Meter

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Ever put too much money in a parking meter or put in change and had nothing happen? Then you'll appreciate the plight of John Cayton, 13.

John took a penny from his mother to put in the meter in front of a coin shop where he was going to let an expert look at his prize 1873 Arrows-type dime.

You guessed it. Subsequently, for the first time in memory of Santa Monica meter collectors, a patron actually demanded his money back. The request filtered up Wednesday to city Treasurer Kay Watanabe and was granted.

The youth, elated at the recovery and also tardy for school, rushed off with the dime — which the coin expert said in quick glance could be worth $150 or more.

North Korea Said Behind Letters from Pueblo Crew

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say letters from captive Pueblo crewmen to their families at home appear a new North Korean bid to wrest an apology from President Johnson.

Some relatives of crewmen, in telling Wednesday of receiving such letters, expressed suspicions they were written under North Korean supervision.

Catherine O'Bannon, wife of Michael O'Bannon, 21, a fireman on the intelligence vessel when it was captured Jan. 23 off North Korea's coast, said the letter she received repeatedly urged her to tell U.S. authorities the Pueblo violated the Communist nation's territorial waters.

Mrs. Warren Hayes of Columbus, Ohio, said the letter apparently written by her son, Radioman 2.C. Lee Hayes, described the Pueblo as an espionage ship spying in North Korean waters, asked the United States to admit this and apologize, and added:

"I ask you as my parents to do the same."

Mrs. Hayes said she was sure her son wrote the letter she received—but was equally certain it was written under supervision.

She noted it contained few misspelled words. "He never wrote that neatly and he mis-

New Bridge Plans To Be Discussed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Plans for a new bridge at Point Pleasant W. Va., will be discussed at a public hearing at Huntington, W. Va. at 10 a.m. on April 9, the Coast Guard announced Wednesday.

Two plans will be considered to replace Silver Birdge, a suspension bridge between Point Pleasant and Kanaugha, Ohio, which collapsed last December with a loss of more than 40 lives.

Court Rejects Cleveland Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court refused Wednesday to rule on the constitutionality of Cleveland's urban renewal program, letting stand lower court decisions that declared two Hough Avenue residences as nuisances.

Milt Schulman and Tower Development and Investment Co. Inc., owners of the two buildings, had sued to prevent demolition of the structures.

Their suit contended the urban renewal ordinance was vague and thus unconstitutional. Schulman asserted that the "real purpose" of the ordinance was "taking of private property without just compensation."

Cary Grant User of LSD, Wife Says in Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The pretty blonde wife of actor Cary Grant says he took weekly "trips" on LSD for the past 10 years and tried to persuade her to try the drug.

Dyan Cannon, 30, seeking a divorce from the 64-year-old actor, testified Wednesday that he beat her and had frequent "yelling and screaming fits."

The actress returns to court today continuing her effort to prove that Grant is an unfit father for their 2-year-old daughter, Jennifer. She is challenging his right to visit his only child.

Miss Cannon, who said she married Grant after knowing him more than five years, said he told her he had used the hallucinatory drug LSD for 10 years. During the six years she knew him, she said, "on those occasions when he took LSD, I was with him."

During his "trips" she said a doctor was present only once. Twice before their marriage, Miss Cannon said he took the drug too but never after they married.

"He once told me I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown," she said, "and he hoped I would have it so the new me would be a wonderful me."

"He wanted the new me to be created through the use of LSD."

The marriage was the first for Miss Cannon, a native of Seattle, Wash. She had appeared in several films and television shows before she became Grant's fourth wife in a secret ceremony at Las Vegas, Nev. July 22, 1965. Their daughter was born Feb. 22, 1966, and the couple separated Dec. 28, 1966. She filed suit for divorce last August.

In 1960 a psychotherapist, Dr. Mortimer Hartman, told newsmen that Grant had helped in tests involving lysergic acid diethylamide, or LSD.

Miss Cannon, who has asked for $5,740 monthly support, said she wants to hire a chauffeur to live with her and the child because "Jennifer is a highly publicized baby and I worry for her safety... I'd like to have a male on the premises."

Among her expenses she listed two sessions per week with a psychiatrist at $60 per hour. One of Grant's attorneys asked whether Miss Cannon is bothered "by any particular problem."

"Yes," she replied, "a broken heart."

"We just can't forget our son's over there—it's been buried too long. We must do something now," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Woelk, of Alta Vista, Kan., said the letter and a picture from their son, Fireman Apprentice Steven Eugene Woelk, said he was being "treated all right" and "not to worry"—a recurrent theme in most of the other letters.

How the Weather Looks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio's weather:

The state was in store for a very wet period today and Friday.

The precipitation is associated with low pressure disturbances which are moving along a frontal system located from Tennessee to Virginia. Rain over the state today was to be occasionally heavy, especially in the scattered thunderstorms that will occur in the central and south. Rainfall amounts of an inch or more are quite likely in those sections through Friday morning.

Precipitation will change to a mixture of rain and snow in northwest Ohio by late tonight and over most of the remainder of the state by Friday evening.

Things Dull Right Now,
Prince Says

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip says he and his wife, Queen Elizabeth II, were "infinitely more newsworthy and amusing" 15 years ago than they are now—but that things may pick up again as they get older.

The prince, 45, was asked in a television interview Wednesday if he detected any changes in the public attitude toward the monarchy.

He said that in 1953—the year of the queen's coronation—"we were a great deal younger—a young queen and a young family were infinitely more newsworthy and amusing."

"Now we are getting to middle age," he said. "I dare say that, when we are a bit more ancient, there might be a bit more reverence again."

Rocky Announces Decision on Presidential Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York makes his long-awaited announcement today as to whether he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, challenging the front-runner, Richard M. Nixon.

The consensus among political observers here is that he will run.

At the eleventh hour, however, a top Rockefeller aide reported, "There is still a deep division in our own ranks" about the advisability of having the governor get in the race.

And in Washington Tuesday, when Rockefeller was asked about doubts that he might run, he replied: "Yes, there is reason for that." He did not elaborate.

On the other hand, some senators who attended the meeting with Rockefeller came away with the impression that he has decided to fight it out with Nixon. One source said, "All the indicators were positive, none negative."

He has three major options. They are:

1. He can leave his name on the ballot for the Oregon presidential primary, May 28, and go into the state to campaign in a head-to-head battle with Nixon. He would thus officially be in the race.

2. He can leave it there but not actively campaign in the state. He is well known in Oregon. He won in its 1964 primary.

3. He can stay out by filing an affidavit with the Oregon secretary of state, disclaiming candidacy. This would take his name off the ballot.

Rockefeller indicated to this reporter a few days ago that he might have a fourth course—to take the role of a "commentator." In other words, he said, he could deliver a series of speeches between now and the GOP nominating convention in August, setting forth his position on Vietnam, civil rights, the problems of the cities and the other major international and national issues.

He would delineate in these speeches where he disagrees with Nixon.

He added, "Of course, the question is: How effective would that be?"

Nixon appears to hold a long lead in the race for the nomination. Whether Rockefeller, by making speeches but not actively campaigning and winning the Oregon primary, could overcome that head start is the question.

Nearly three years ago, Rockefeller said, "I will not now or at any time in the future ever be a candidate for president again. That's a flat statement." He made it in Minneapolis, July 25, 1965, at a governors conference.

CHRISTOPHER PONTIAC

The GTO's a machine calculated to make any driver refuse to go back to plain ordinary driving again. And the '68 version of Pontiac's Great One has truly spectacular credentials. For one: a fantastic bumper that's the same color as the car and that refuses to chip, fade or corrode. Then there's a 350 hp, 400 cubic in V-8 (or regular gas, 265 hp version, if you prefer) and an all-synchro 3-speed transmission with Hurst shifter. We could go on and on. With dual exhausts, sports-type springs and shocks, Fastrak tires for better traction and ride, disappearing windshield wipers, and a lot more, all standard. Options on the 1968 GTO include a 4-speed stick, 360 hp Ram Air engine with functional hood scoops.

How the Weather Looks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary for Ohio's weather:

The state was in store for a very wet period today and Friday.

The precipitation is associated with low pressure disturbances which are moving along a frontal system located from Tennessee to Virginia. Rain over the state today was to be occasionally heavy, especially in the scattered thunderstorms that will occur in the central and south. Rainfall amounts of an inch or more are quite likely in those sections through Friday morning.

Precipitation will change to a mixture of rain and snow in northwest Ohio by late tonight and over most of the remainder of the state by Friday evening.

Things Dull Right Now, Prince Says

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip says he and his wife, Queen Elizabeth II, were "infinitely more newsworthy and amusing" 15 years ago than they are now—but that things may pick up again as they get older.

The prince, 45, was asked in a television interview Wednesday if he detected any changes in the public attitude toward the monarchy.

He said that in 1953—the year of the queen's coronation—"we were a great deal younger—a young queen and a young family were infinitely more newsworthy and amusing."

"Now we are getting to middle age," he said. "I dare say that, when we are a bit more ancient, there might be a bit more reverence again."

Rocky Announces Decision on Presidential Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York makes his long-awaited announcement today as to whether he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, challenging the front-runner, Richard M. Nixon. The consensus among political observers here is that he will run.

At the eleventh hour, however, a top Rockefeller aide reported, "There is still a deep division in our own ranks" about the advisability of having the governor get in the race.

And in Washington Tuesday, when Rockefeller was asked about doubts that he might run, he replied: "Yes, there is reason for that." He did not elaborate.

On the other hand, some senators who attended the meeting with Rockefeller came away with the impression that he has decided to fight it out with Nixon. One source said, "All the indicators were positive, none negative."

He has three major options. They are:

1. He can leave his name on the ballot for the Oregon presidential primary, May 28, and go into the state to campaign in a head-to-head battle with Nixon. He would thus officially be in the race.

2. He can leave it there but not actively campaign in the state. He is well known in Oregon. He won in its 1964 primary.

3. He can stay out by filing an affidavit with the Oregon secretary of state, disclaiming candidacy. This would take his name off the ballot.

Rockefeller indicated to this reporter a few days ago that he might have a fourth course—to take the role of a "commentator." In other words, he said, he could deliver a series of speeches between now and the GOP nominating convention in August, setting forth his position on Vietnam, civil rights, the problems of the cities and the other major international and national issues.

He would delineate in these speeches where he disagrees with Nixon.

He added, "Of course, the question is: How effective would that be?"

Nixon appears to hold a long lead in the race for the nomination. Whether Rockefeller, by making speeches but not active campaigning and winning the Oregon primary, could overcome that head start is the question.

Nearly three years ago, Rockefeller said, "I will not now or at any time in the future ever be a candidate for president again. That's a flat statement." He made it in Minneapolis, July 25, 1965, at a governors conference.

RESERVE FOLLIES SEATS — Mrs. Jack Hughes (left) and Mrs. William Hall (seated) were stationed at the Savings Bank this morning as seat reservations opened for next weekend's "High Fever Follies." Mrs. Richard Hanson (right) was one of the early customers making her reservations. The desk will be in the bank lobby daily until production dates of March 29, 30 and 31.

South-Central Ohio Beauty Pageant Set

Entries are now being accepted for the eighth Miss South-Central Ohio Pageant, to be held 8 p. m. April 27, at the Chillicothe High School auditorium.

Manson urges interested contestants to contact entries chairman Don R. Casey, 1233 Dolphin St., Chillicothe, before April 1.

The winner and first two runners up of the Miss South-Central Ohio Pageant will receive college scholarships. The winner will also compete for the title of Miss Ohio, and if she wins, will go on to the Miss America competition.

Contestants must be 18 years old before Sept., 1963 and no older than 20 before September. They must be single and a resident of Ross, Pickaway, Hocking, Fairfield, Pike, Vinton or Jackson County.

Their participation will consist of talent, swimsuit and evening gown competitions. Further information may be obtained from Mr. Casey.

Tickets for the event may be purchased at Summers and Son in Chillicothe, or by writing to T. J. Martin, 259 Vine St., Chillicothe, Ohio, 45601.

49 YEARS OF SERVICE

On its 49th Birthday we salute the American Legion . . . a Fraternity of Service, dedicated to the Betterment of the Community, State and Nation.

A Salute to the America of Tomorrow

Founded March 15-17, 1919, The American Legion has taken deep root in the basic pattern of our Nation's life during an epochal period of world history. Now a four-generation organization of war veterans, The American Legion is using the observance of its 49th Anniversary to salute the America of Tomorrow.

We recognize with appreciation The American Legion's tremendous record of 49 years of service to God and Country. We congratulate the Legion for its foresightedness in planning for an even greater period of service in years ahead.

Ex-Marine Commandant Lashes LBJ War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. David M. Shoup, former commandant of the Marine Corps, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today the official reasons for American intervention in Vietnam are "not supportable."

Shoup aired before the com-

Shoup, Marine commandant in 1960-63, was invited to testify as part of a continuing committee appraisal of the Vietnam situation.

The majority of the members, including Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has opposed the administration on the war.

Fulbright opened the session by reading the citation that accompanied the award of the Medal of Honor to Shoup for his actions under fire after being wounded in the invasion of Tarawa in 1943.

Those actions, Fulbright said, "leave him immune to any charge of a lack of will."

Shoup replied he considered it an honor "for an Indiana farm boy to be invited here to talk of matters of great international interest without fear of reprisal—except for being called a dissembler, a traitor and being accused of giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

The preliminaries aside, the general said he never felt this country had absolutely no interest in Southeast Asia, "but neither that the reasons given for what we are doing there are not supportable."

Report Arson In Anna Fire

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Fire Chief Joseph Buscher of Anna in Shelby County said today the community's fire last Sunday morning was "definitely arson," and that the investigation is still continuing.

The fire is believed to have originated in the vacant Anna Farmer's Elevator, which had been scheduled for demolition this week.

The elevator was destroyed, and the flames spread to the Wilt Department Store and the Billings Insurance Agency, as well as to three apartments above the department store.

Buscher did not disclose what evidence pointed to arson. He said he has now estimated the damage at $125,000, up from the $80,000 reported earlier.

The state fire marshal's office also has been investigating the fire.

The moon appears cold and lifeless, but evidence collected in 1967 by the Surveyor V spacecraft indicates that the earth's satellite was warm in the past.

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Fred M. Escherick Jr., convicted of first-degree murder in the bayonet-killing of his father, was denied a new trial today by Lake County Common Pleas Judge John F. Clair Jr.

Defense Counsel Henry Rand said the ruling would be appealed to the 7th District Court of Appeals at Youngstown.

Escherick, a former Harvey High School sophomore, was convicted last Dec. 6 in the slaying of his father, Fred Sr., at their home here last May 5 and is now in death row at the Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus.

YOU, THERE!

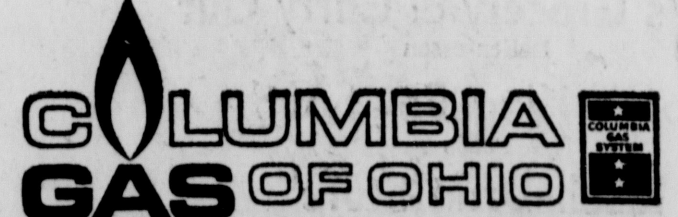

ARE YOU ONE OF THE MILLIONS WHO TAKE HOT WATER FOR GRANTED?

Good.
Nowadays, people really should take their hot water for granted. And the millions who rely on dependable, economical Gas water heaters do. That's because a modern, family-rated Gas water heater delivers all the hot water a modern family needs. And it does it at a fraction of the cost of heating water electrically.

If all you want from a water heater is hot water—as much as you need, when you need it, and for the least amount of money—Insist on a Gas water heater... and then forget it.

Ex-Marine Commandant Lashes LBJ War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. David M. Shoup, former commander of the Marine Corps, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today the official reasons for American intervention in Vietnam are "not supportable."

Shoup aired before the committee his previously expressed criticisms of the administration's war policies.

Shoup, Marine commandant in 1960-63, was invited to testify as part of a continuing committee appraisal of the Vietnam situation.

The majority of the members, including Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has opposed the administration on the war.

Fulbright opened the session by reading the citation that accompanied the award of the Medal of Honor to Shoup for his actions under fire after being wounded in the invasion of Taiwan in 1943.

Shoup replied he considered it an honor "for an Indiana farm boy to be invited here to talk of matters of great international interest without fear of reprisal—except for being called a dissembler, a traitor and being accused of giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

The preliminaries aside, the general said he never felt this country had absolutely no interest in Southeast Asia, "but neither that the reasons given for what we are doing there are not supportable."

Report Arson In Anna Fire

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Fire Chief Joseph Buscher of Anna in Shelby County said today the community's fire last Sunday morning was "definitely arson," and that the investigation is still continuing.

The fire is believed to have originated in the vacant Anna Farmer's Elevator, which had been scheduled for demolition this week.

The elevator was destroyed, and the flames spread to the Wilt Department Store and the Billings Insurance Agency, as well as to three apartments above the department store.

Buscher did not disclose what evidence pointed to arson. He said he has now estimated the damage at $125,000, up from the $80,000 reported earlier.

The state fire marshal's office also has been investigating the fire.

The Roman naturalist Pliny listed frankincense as an antidote for hemlock poisoning.

The moon appears cold and lifeless, but evidence collected in 1967 by the Surveyor V spacecraft indicates that the earth's satellite was warm in the past.

Britain Cuts Interest Rate

Move Strengthens Pound Sterling

LONDON (AP)—The British government cut the Bank rate today from 8 per cent to 7½ per cent in the wake of Britain's toughest peacetime budget since the 1930s.

The move by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's labor government is designed to make money more available for export production and investment in new plants and machinery.

The Bank rate governs interest rates throughout the sterling bloc. It has been 8 per cent since last Nov. 19, when it was hoisted from 7½ per cent in an increase associated with devaluation of the pound.

Announcing the reduction in the rate, the Bank of England cited the calming of the international monetary situation resulting from the Washington agreement to allow both free and official markets for gold and the strengthening of the pound as a result of the British budget made public Tuesday.

"In these circumstances," the bank said, "the reduction in the rate to 7½ per cent is appropriate both on international and domestic considerations."

The cut in the rate gave the pound an immediate boost. Sellers on the London foreign exchange market turned buyers, helping sterling up to $2.4035. It had earlier dipped to $2.4025 dollars from last night's closing at $2.4065.

The rate change also affected the London stock market, with leading equities showing sharp gains.

CINCINNATI (AP) — In a move to take away the bus franchise of the Cincinnati Transit Co., the Citizens Transportation Committee said it will seek residential support which could bring about a referendum. The group filed notice Wednesday with the city finance director's office.

Take Lot of Bull

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Four young men snatched a papier mache bull from a restaurant and drove off with the 4-by-8-foot display sticking out of the top of their open car. The youths, believed to be collegians visiting Fort Lauderdale beaches, took the bull from its stand in front of a steak house.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., says arrest and conviction records show "far too much leniency in Detroit" after the July riot.

The comment came after staff witnesses told a Senate investigations subcommittee Wednesday only 22 of the 666 people charged with riot-connected felonies were sentenced to prison terms.

"There wasn't any harsh or cruel punishment administered, to say the least of it," Curtis said.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., added that only four of the 22 "really got anything tougher than a rap on the knuckles." He said most got light sentences.

Subcommittee staff members said 4,260 people were charged with riot-connected felonies and misdemeanors. They said 642 were convicted of misdemeanors.

The staff said 1,690 cases still are pending.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has refused to comment on a published report the United States may advise President Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw Chinese nationalist defenses from the islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Columnist Jack Anderson said Robert Barnett, deputy assistant secretary of state, contended at a secret strategy session in Honolulu Jan. 11 that cost of defending the islands was too great a drain.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Wednesday no formal request has been made for such action and brushed aside questions on whether such a move had been considered.

McCloskey said the U.S. position rests squarely on the 1954 mutual defense treaty with Nationalist China and the 1955 joint resolution of Congress which affirmed U.S. support for the defense of Taiwan and the Pescadores Islands.

Those two documents do not directly mention Quemoy and Matsu but their defense has at times been considered essential to the defense of the Mainland.

McCloskey said there is no official document at variance with the 1954 and 1955 papers and no consideration at a high level of any change in U.S. policy.

Charles Chaplin Jr. Dies in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Charles Chaplin Jr., who tried but couldn't follow in the famous footsteps of his comedian father, is dead at 42.

A coroner reported he died Wednesday of a massive blood clot of a major blood vessel near the lungs, caused by thrombosis of the right leg.

Death came only one day after Chaplin had returned to his Hollywood home from a hospital where he was treated for pneumonia, pleurisy and a broken ankle. His grandmother found the body in a bathroom.

13 Persons Killed in Avalanche

WARSAW (AP) — At least 13 persons, including nine Russian tourists, were killed in an avalanche in the Sudeten Mountains of southwest Poland Wednesday, the Communist party newspaper Trybuna Ludu reported today.

Five persons—two Poles, two East Germans and one Russian—were hospitalized. A search of the snow field near Karpacz continued.

Before Red Push, Commander Saw Big U.S. Wins

The Times, quoting excerpts from a classified year-end report Westmoreland made to Washington Jan. 1, said the U.S. commander in Vietnam asserted that "the enemy did not win a major battle in Vietnam in 1967" and declared: "We should expect our gains of 1967 to be increased manifold in 1968."

The report reflected the view Westmoreland expressed on his visit to the United States last November, said the Times, namely that allied military pressure was forcing the enemy away from South Vietnam's population centers. In the Tet lunar new year offensive, the Viet Cong wreaked havoc in 35 population centers including Saigon.

Other discrepancies pointed out by the Times between Westmoreland's predictions and the outlook after the Tet offensive were these:

—The general said the enemy's recruiting in South Vietnam would fall off. But intelligence analysts now say the enemy's recruiting drive picked up steam in the latter half of 1967 and he has now replaced most soldiers lost in the urban offensive.

—The general predicted combat this year would create about 340,000 new refugees. The Tet offensive alone resulted in about 350,000.

—He said the pacification program was expected "to gain considerable headway in the next six months." But the Tet offensive has profoundly disrupted that program.

Young Group Patrols Harlem

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of a new Community Patrol Corps, young men armed with walkie-talkies instead of weapons, have taken to the teeming streets of Central Harlem in an experiment aimed at keeping the city cool.

Within hours after the first patrols fanned out Wednesday, they had broken up a fight between two-teenage girls, prevented a possible stabbing and logged six requests to escort women going home from work around midnight.

Strolling the broad sidewalks in pairs, they took notes and reported on such hazardous or unsanitary conditions as uncured vacant buildings, uncollected trash, pot holes and defective trash barrels.

Earlier, before the corpsmen—all between 18 and 30 years of age—left the headquarters they lined up in their distinctive brown jackets and were addressed by Mayor John V. Lindsay.

"This experiment is the most important of its kind in the country," he told them. "It will be your job to make sure the community of Harlem has faith in cops. Very often the community has reason not to have faith."

Lindsay said their "biggest problem is the young cats, the teen-agers. There's where you have the toughest job. I'm counting on you more than you know."

He said if the week-long experiment is successful it will be continued.

As the patrols departed they were observed by Charles 37X Kenyatta, a black nationalist. He told newsmen the patrol was "ridiculous. It shows the police department is not capable of performing its duties."

But the general public reaction was favorable. Most residents interviewed said they were pleased with the patrol and they greeted the corpsmen with curiosity and friendliness.

The patrol was organized by the Vera Institute of Justice and the Mayor's Criminal Justice Coordinating Council. The corpsmen, who have no powers of arrest, are paid $90 a week.

Heading the corps is Herbert Miller, a 26-year-old street worker. He told the mayor at the inspection ceremony: "Harlem's job is to keep cool not only in the summer, but for all four seasons."

Ethics Bill Fight Rages in Senate

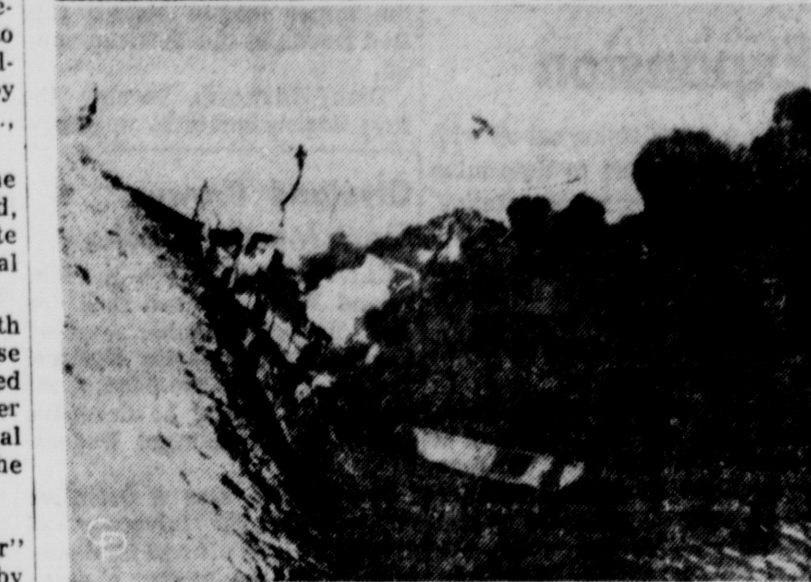

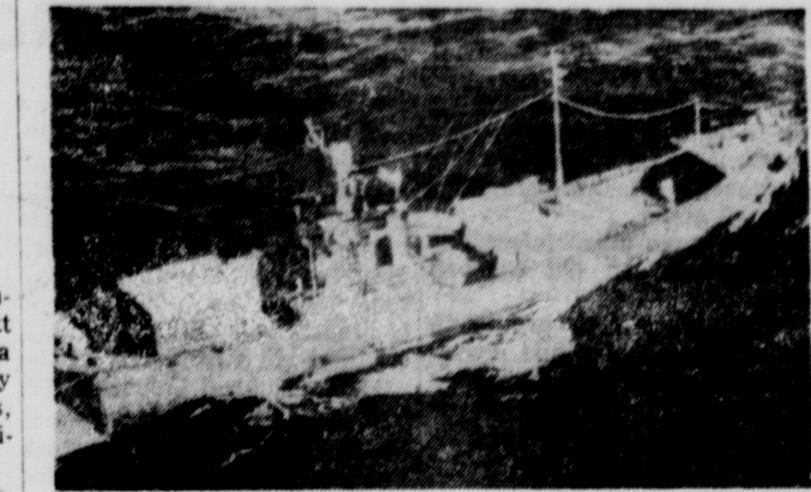

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who helped defeat a plan to make senators publicly bare all their financial affairs, has taken aim at a far milder financial-disclosure proposal.

The Senate, following sometimes heated debate, voted 44 to 40 Wednesday against the full-disclosure plan sponsored by Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Clifford P. Case, R-N.J.

Among those voting for the plan was Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., censured by the Senate last year for alleged financial misconduct.

Senate leaders said that with the controversial Clark-Case proposal disposed of, they hoped for faster action today on other amendments to the financial disclosure plan drafted by the Senate ethics committee.

Britain Cuts Interest Rate

Move Strengthens Pound Sterling

LONDON (AP)—The British government cut the Bank rate today from 8 per cent to 7½ per cent in the wake of Britain's toughest peacetime budget since the 1930s.

The move by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's labor government is designed to make money more available for export production and investment in new plants and machinery.

The Bank rate governs interest rates throughout the sterling bloc. It has been 8 per cent since last Nov. 19, when it was hoisted from 7½ per cent in an increase associated with devaluation of the pound.

Announcing the reduction in the rate, the Bank of England cited the calming of the international monetary situation resulting from the Washington agreement to allow both free and official markets for gold and the strengthening of the pound as a result of the British budget made public Tuesday.

"In these circumstances," the bank said, "the reduction in the rate to 7½ per cent is appropriate both on international and domestic considerations."

The cut in the rate gave the pound an immediate boost. Sellers on the London foreign exchange market turned buyers, helping sterling up to $2.4035. It had earlier dipped to $2.4025 dollars from last night's closing at $2.4065.

The rate change also affected the London stock market, with leading equities showing sharp gains.

NEW YORK (AP) — A month before the disruptive Communist Tet offensive, Gen. William C. Westmoreland predicted great allied headway during 1968 in military and pacification programs in Vietnam, the New York Times reported from Washington today.

The Times, quoting excerpts from a classified year-end report Westmoreland made to Washington Jan. 1, said the U.S. commander in Vietnam asserted that "the enemy did not win a major battle in Vietnam in 1967" and declared: "We should expect our gains of 1967 to be increased manifold in 1968."

The report reflected the view Westmoreland expressed on his visit to the United States last November, said the Times, namely that allied military pressure was forcing the enemy away from South Vietnam's population centers. In the Tet lunar new year offensive, the Viet Cong wreaked havoc in 35 population centers including Saigon.

Other discrepancies pointed out by the Times between Westmoreland's predictions and the outlook after the Tet offensive were these:

—The general said the enemy's recruiting in South Vietnam would fall off. But intelligence analysts now say the enemy's recruiting drive picked up steam in the latter half of 1967 and he has now replaced most soldiers lost in the urban offensive.

—The general predicted combat this year would create about 340,000 new refugees. The Tet offensive alone resulted in about 350,000.

—He said the pacification program was expected "to gain considerable headway in the next six months." But the Tet offensive has profoundly disrupted that program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., says arrest and conviction records show "far too much leniency in Detroit" after the July riot.

The comment came after staff witnesses told a Senate investigations subcommittee Wednesday only 22 of the 666 people charged with riot-connected felonies were sentenced to prison terms.

"There wasn't any harsh or cruel punishment administered, to say the least of it," Curtis said.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., added that only four of the 22 "really got anything tougher than a rap on the knuckles." He said most got light sentences.

Subcommittee staff members said 4,260 people were charged with riot-connected felonies and misdemeanors. They said 642 were convicted of misdemeanors.

The staff said 1,690 cases still are pending.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has refused to comment on a published report the United States may advise President Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw Chinese nationalist defenses from the islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Columnist Jack Anderson said Robert Barnett, deputy assistant secretary of state, contended at a secret strategy session in Honolulu Jan. 11 that cost of defending the islands was too great a drain.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Wednesday no formal request has been made for such action and brushed aside questions on whether such a move had been considered.

McCloskey said the U.S. position rests squarely on the 1954 mutual defense treaty with Nationalist China and the 1955 joint resolution of Congress which affirmed U.S. support for the defense of Taiwan and the Pescadores Islands.

Those two documents do not directly mention Quemoy and Matsu but their defense has at times been considered essential to the defense of the Mainland.

McCloskey said there is no official document at variance with the 1954 and 1955 papers and no consideration at a high level of any change in U.S. policy.

Minnesota Shoots Works for '68 Pennant

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — When Minnesota acquired John Rosboro, Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller from the Los Angeles Dodgers, it was obvious that the Twins were shooting the works for the 1968 pennant.

In the trade, Minnesota dealt off shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Mudecat Grant, both instrumental when the Twins won the American League pennant in 1966.

A hitting catcher and bullpen help for 34-year-old Al Worthington had been high on the shopping list of owner Calvin

Griffith after the Twins blew a one-game lead with two to go at Fenway Park last October.

"We feel we strengthened two positions," said Cal Ermer, the manager who replaced Sam Mele last June 9. "I feel that Versalles will come back and have a good year with the Dodgers but we helped ourselves with a regular catcher to play every day and two good experienced hands in the bullpen."

"I am very optimistic about our chances. We had a fantastic race last year but it might be even better this time. I can't see any one club breaking it wide open. We might go into late August or September with six or seven clubs still in it."

Before you rush out to order World Series tickets for Metropolitan Stadium, heed the caution flag. The Twins do not have a regular shortstop. Third base is a question mark. Jim Kaat's tender left elbow still is causing concern.

Every time Ermer talks about one of the questionable spots on the Twins he says, "Well, Tovar can play it." The versatility of Cesar Tovar, who drew the only vote for Most Valuable Player honors that Carl Yastrzemski didn't get, is all-important to the Twins.

At the moment it appears that Tovar may have to play shortstop because Jack Hernandez, the fine fielding shortstop from the California Angels' organization, isn't hitting. Rick Renick, another prospect has been hand-capped by minor injuries.

If Hernandez finally wins the job, vacated by Versalles, Tovar may wind up at third base where weak-hitting Ron Clark is holding forth until Rich Rollins completely recovers from surgery on his right knee. Rollins finally made his first appearance Sunday as a pinch hitter.

Harmon Killebrew has settled down comfortably at first base. Rod Carew, the Rookie of the Year in 1967, is set at second.

Bob Allison's fine comeback as a home run hitter and RBI man was a comforting development last year. Ermer has Rick Reese as a platoon man in left field for Allison. Uhlaender figures to be the center fielder although speedy Pat Kelly, brother of Leroy Kelly of football's Cleveland Browns, swings a good bat.

Tony Oliva, of course, is the right fielder. Oliva, coming off his first sub .300 year, underwent surgery on his right knee during the off season. The batting champ of 1964 and 1965 is anxious to get back in the thick of the fight.

HERE COME THE CARDS—The world baseball champion St. Louis Cardinals start their run for the 1968 National League pennant as pitchers and catchers sprint onto the training field in their St. Petersburg, Fla., spring camp.

Exhibition Baseball, Romance Mix

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bo and Jo are the talk of the baseball world these days but the Houston Astros are perfectly happy with Don and Tom, thank you.

While playboy Bo Belinsky and Playboy's Jo Collins were announcing plans to get married, right-handers Don Wilson and Tom Griffin were combining to pitch a one-hitter as the Astros edged Detroit 2-1 Wednesday in an exhibition baseball game.

There were other interesting developments on the baseball front.

Willie Mays had two teeth yanked by a dentist and Boston pitcher Dave Morehead almost lost a couple when he ran into a wall during a volley ball game.

There was some baseball played, too. Phil Linz and Ed Charles, who aren't even on the roster, sparked the New York Mets to a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore. Oakland's Sal Bando continued his spring slugging, cracking his sixth homer as the Athletics clubbed Cincinnati 6-2.

Mickey Mantle belted homer No. 1, starting the New York Yankees to a 9-1 victory over the minor league Mexico City Red Devils in the Mexican capital.

Dick Ellsworth became the first Boston hurler to work seven innings, checking his former Philadelphia teammates on one run and seen hits in a 6-1 Red Sox victory.

Orlando Cepeda's 10th-inning single scored the winning run as St. Louis overcame eight errors and edged Los Angeles 9-8. Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly drove in the decisive run as Pittsburgh shaded the Chicago White Sox 2-1.

Three runs in the eighth inning enabled California to overcome Cleveland 9-7 despite five hits by the losers' Max Alvis. The Chicago Cubs collected 17 hits and buried San Francisco 10-4.

Atlanta bombed Minnesota's Dave Boswell for 13 hits in 3-1-3 innings and nipped the Twins 8-6. Sandy Valdespino, sold by the Twins to the Braves last fall, socked a three-run homer.

The only hit allowed by Houston's Wilson-Griffin combine was a homer by Detroit's Al Kaline. It came off Wilson, who went five innings, fanning five.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter last season, is expected to be one of Houston's pitching mainstays. But Griffin, a 20-year-old rookie, had only a 3-9 record last season with two minor league clubs.

Big Leagues Avert Clash Over Baseball Expansion

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Baseball's major leagues have skirted a head-on clash over expansion differences. But sparks could fly in the near future if the American League splits down the middle while the National stands pat.

Following a pair of no decision sessions on expansion before and during an executive council meeting Wednesday, the two leagues announced they would meet separately next month to plot courses for the 1969 season.

The American League goes to 12 teams next year with the addition of Seattle and Kansas City franchises and reportedly favors a two-division set-up with a pennant playoff to determine its World Series representative.

League President Joe Cronin denied that the two-division plan has been discussed formally, but said the matter would be on the agenda at an April 25 meeting in Chicago.

An AL playoff could raise havoc with the final week of a 10-team National League race unless some scheduling balance can be agreed upon. Or unless the National League, which has voted to expand not later than 1970, makes its move next year to keep in step.

Cleveland Browns Sign Martin Upshaw
CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns signed their top pick in the National Football League draft, Martin Upshaw, and plan to give the 6-foot-3, 245-pounder a tryout at defensive end, it was announced Wednesday.

Upshaw, 22, was a defensive tackle for Trinity University and did the kicking off and field goal work. He is the brother of Gene Oakland Raiders of the American Football League.

Allison Danzig To Be Honored
NEW YORK (AP) — Allison Danzig, retired dean of America's tennis writers and a sports writer for more than 40 years with the New York Times, will be honored March 29 by Madison Square Garden and the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

The occasion will be during the semifinals of an international tennis tournament scheduled for Madison Square Garden March 25-30.

Chickarella Named
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Vince Chickarella was named head basketball coach at Capital University Wednesday. He had been coach at Columbus Linden McKinley High School.

Kranepool Tested
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Ed Kranepool, New York Mets' first baseman, visited an eye doctor Wednesday for an astigmatism problem in both eyes and it was prescribed that he wear glasses both on and off the field.

Minnesota Shoots Works for '68 Pennant

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — When Minnesota acquired John Posab, Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller from the Los Angeles Dodgers, it was obvious that the Twins were shooting the works for the 1968 pennant.

In the trade, Minnesota dealt off shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Mudcat Grant, both instrumental when the Twins won the American League pennant in 1966.

A hitting catcher and bullpen help for 34-year-old Al Worthington had been high on the shopping list of owner Calvin

Griffith after the Twins blew a one-game lead with two to go at Fenway Park last October.

"We feel we strengthened two positions," said Cal Ermer, the manager who replaced Sam Mele last June 9. "I feel that Versalles will come back and have a good year with the Dodgers but we helped ourselves with a regular catcher to play every day and two good experienced hands in the bullpen.

"I am very optimistic about our chances. We had a fantastic race last year but it might be even better this time. I can't see any one club breaking it wide open. We might go into late August or September with six or seven clubs still in it."

Before you rush out to order World Series tickets for Metropolitan Stadium, heed the caution flag. The Twins do not have a regular shortstop. Third base is a question mark. Jim Kaat's tender left elbow still is causing concern.

Every time Ermer talks about one of the questionable spots on the Twins he says, "Well, Tovar can play it." The versatility of Cesar Tovar, who drew the only vote for Most Valuable Player honors that Carl Yastrzemski didn't get, is all-important to the Twins.

At the moment it appears that Tovar may have to play shortstop because Jack Hernandez, the fine fielding shortstop from the California Angels' organization, isn't hitting. Rick Renick, another prospect has been handicapped by minor injuries.

If Hernandez finally wins the job, vacated by Versalles, Tovar may wind up at third base where weak-hitting Ron Clark is holding forth until Rich Rollins completely recovers from surgery on his right knee. Rollins finally made his first appearance Sunday as a pinch hitter.

normally gets off slowly and then comes on like gangbusters. Harmon Killebrew has settled down comfortably at first base. Rod Carew, the Rookie of the Year in 1967, is set at second.

Bob Allison's fine comeback as a home run hitter and RBI man was a comforting development last year. Ermer has Rick Reese as a platoon man in left field for Allison. Uhlaender figures to be the center fielder although speedy Pat Kelly, brother of Leroy Kelly of football's Cleveland Browns, swings a good bat.

Tony Oliva, of course, is the right fielder. Oliva, coming off his first sub .300 year, underwent surgery on his right knee during the off season. The batting champ of 1964 and 1965 is anxious to get back in the thick of the fight.

Roseboro, veteran of many Dodger championship teams, is due to do the heavy work as No. 1 catcher. The veteran Jerry Zimmerman did most of the work in 1967 with the help of Russ Nixon.

Kaat remains a question mark because he still is taking it easy with that tender elbow that he injured in the next-to-last game of last season at Boston. Ermer is letting him take his own time, confident he will be ready to start bearing down by opening day.

With Kaat and Jim Merritt for left-handers and Dean Chance, Dave Boswell and Jim Perry for right-handers, the Twins have a formidable staff. Perranoski, the southpaw master of the Dodgers' pennant teams and Miller, his right-handed partner, join Worthington on relief.

Of several pitchers competing for the two open jobs, the best seem to be Joe Grzenda, Jim Roland and Ron Keller.

Dayton, St. Peter's NIT Favorite, Fancy Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — St. Peter's and Dayton, their big surprises uncovered, are the fancy and the favorite against rugged Kansas and Notre Dame in tonight's semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

The small, but amazingly quick Peacocks — probably an underdog but a gallery favorite — meet defensive-minded Kansas after the Flyers oppose Notre Dame and its stubborn defense in the doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

The winners meet Saturday at 2 p.m., EST, in the final on national television. The losers meet for third place at noon.

Few expected St. Peter's to get this far, but few knew the Peacocks could run like they do. The New Jersey school, utilizing a rocketing fast break, swept aside Marshall and stunned top-seeded Duke.

And the Peacocks, their tallest starter at 6-foot-5, unveiled Elrnado Webster, who caught the crowd's fancy by scoring 80 points in the two games.

Dayton, on the other hand, the runner-up in the NCAA tourney last year and a favorite here, has second team All-American Don May and its own surprise — Dan Obrovac, a 6-10 center.

Obrovac, a 6.6 point a game scorer, dropped in 30 in the triumph over West Virginia and then hit six straight free throws in the final 2½ minutes to beat Fordham.

St. Peter's and Kansas, another favorite in its first NIT, are completely different. The Peacocks: small, quick, the nation's third best offensive team. The Jayhawks: tall, slower, among the top 10 defensive teams in the country. They have Jo Jo White and a 6-10, 6-6, 6-5 front line.

Allison Danzig To Be Honored

OSU, Tar Heels Still in Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With talk centering on Houston and UCLA, many overlook the obvious fact that either Ohio State or North Carolina will be in the NCAA basketball finals.

The surprising Buckeyes of the Big Ten and the Tar Heels battle in the opening semifinal game on Friday night at 7 p.m., PST, before Elvin Hayes leads No. 1 rated Houston against the Lew Alcindor — led No. 2 Penguins of UCLA at 9 p. m.

Winners of the two games meet at 7 p.m. Saturday to decide the national championship won by UCLA last year. Coach John Wooden of the defending champs says either Houston or his UCLA Bruins might suffer a letdown after winning Friday night.

Hayes and Alcindor are All-Americans and so is North Carolina's Larry Miller, who could steal the show. The 6-foot-4-inch senior averaged 22.7 points during a campaign which saw the Tar Heels post a 27-3 record and rank No. 4 in the AP poll.

Miller's top help probably will come from 6-10 Rusty Clark, most valuable player in the Eastern regionals, and 6-5 sophomore guard Charlie Scott, whose moves remind some of Oscar Robertson.

This marks the second time the NCAA championships have been held in California and it was Ohio State which won the first time, with a 75-55 victory over California at San Francisco in 1960.

Gary Player Ready To Go

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player plans to quit the pro golf tour when he's 40, but the 32-year-old South African says he feels now that he could play forever.

"No man on the pro tour is more physically fit than I am," Player said after shooting a 64 in a final tuneup for today's start of the $80,000 Pensacola Open.

"I'll probably quit playing competitive golf when I'm 40," he said. "If I lived in America I probably would play until I am 50, but it is too difficult when I have to leave my family and my ranch and come over here."

Player is the only member of the Big Three bidding for the Pensacola title. Both Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus passed up this tournament.

Tight Race Predicted for Cinder Title

WASHINGTON C. H.—Washington track coach Don Gibbs predicts a tight race for the South Central Ohio League title with Wilmington, Circleville, the Blue Lions and Greenfield all contenders.

Washington, second last year, has several standouts returning. The hurdles and discus appear to be the two strong events this year with Virgil Workman back to run both the high and low hurdles and Steve Shaltry, back to defend his SCO discus championship.

The Washington coach expects to offer strong competition in the sprints with Ray Clark leading a host of speedy candidates.

Doug Davis and Pat Dawson are among the top quarter-milers reporting for the cinder sport.

Maple Leafs Out of Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time finally has run out on Punch Imlach's Toronto Maple Leafs.

The National Hockey League's Stanley Cup champions last year, the Leafs were eliminated from 1968's post-season playoffs Wednesday when they dropped a 3-2 decision to the Montreal Canadiens.

In other games, New York grabbed sole possession of second place in the East with a 5-3 victory over Chicago. Pittsburgh picked up valuable ground in the West by knocking off St. Louis 4-2. Philadelphia turned back Oakland 5-1 and Los Angeles and Minnesota played a 3-3 tie.

Chaparrals Top Denver Rockets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Dallas Chaparrals have pretty much taken care of the Denver Rockets and the New Orleans Buccaneers may be next.

By beating New Jersey 109-97 Wednesday night, the Chaps assured themselves of at least a tie for second place in the American Basketball Association's Western Division.

Kenny Stabler Inks Pact with Raiders

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Kenny Stabler, former University of Alabama quarterback, signed a two-year contract with the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League Wednesday night.

Terms of the contract were not announced but Stabler apparently received a bonus. He was also drafted in baseball by the Houston Astros of the National League and said earlier he would determine whether to play baseball or football by which bidder offered him the best contract.

Coach Russ Gregg has been working with the underclassmen since the end of the regular season experimenting with various combinations of players to get a jump on next season.

Circleville's basketball and wrestling banquet is Monday. A football coach, Bill Mallory, will be the speaker.

2 Local Linksters On OU Golf Unit

A pair of Circleville linksters figure strongly in Ohio University coach Kermit Blosser's plans for his 15th Mid American Conference golf championship.

They are Bruce Helwag, who finished second in the MAC with rounds of 83-76-159 and was low individual in the MAC Invitational with rounds of 70-69-139, and Tim Dickinson, a veteran senior.

Blosser has won more Mid American Conference golf championships than any other coach. The son of an Enterprise, O., railroad worker, he never touched a golf club until he became Ohio U's first and only golf coach in 1947.

Since then he has lowered his handicap to 1-5 while bringing along his most famous pupil,

Washington Cage Coach Resigns

WASHINGTON C. H. — Washington High School basketball coach Jim Wilson has announced his intent to resign to the Board of Education.

The Washington native has been head coach for two years. He has requested to remain in the school system as a teacher and an assistant football coach.

Wilson is a graduate of Washington High School and Wittenberg University. He was an All-Ohio Conference guard in football.

Westfall Baseball Squad Favored To Win SVC Title

John Furniss is back to handle the catching. A potential backup receiver is sophomore Daryl Haney. Tony Lightle returns to the first base position he held last year.

Lightle has also had experience in pitching and could bolster the pitching corps in an emergency.

Other infield veterans include Bigam at second and Blair at third and utility infielder Rick Redman. Veteran outfielders include Andy Hamman and Pat Whaley the only seniors with much experience, and juniors Cornwell and Carfrey.

THE veteran coach of the Mustangs is Paul Hoskins who has guided the baseball fortunes of the school since its consolidation and before that was head baseball coach at Jackson.

Most of the strength in the baseball squad lies in the junior class according to Hoskins.

Sports Scribes Pick Cage Champions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus East in Class AA and Mansfield St. Peter's in Class A are overwhelming favorites to capture the state high school basketball championships this weekend, according to a poll of sports writers and sportscasters conducted by the Associated Press.

No. 1 ranked East was the choice of 38 of the 47 scribes and broadcasters who participated in the poll, while Mansfield was named on 23 ballots.

In Class AA, Euclid, East's first-round opponent Friday, picked up four votes, Lima Senior three and Hamilton Garfield two.

Springfield Local of Mahoning County was the choice of 11 while unbeaten Western of Pike County was named on 10 ballots. Cincinnati Lincoln Heights was picked by three.

Jim Hastings, Alliance Review—East and Western.

OSU, Tar Heels Still in Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With talk centering on Houston and UCLA, many overlook the obvious fact that either Ohio State or North Carolina will be in the NCAA basketball finals.

The surprising Buckeyes of the Big Ten and the Tar Heels battle in the opening semifinal game on Friday night at 7 p.m., PST, before Elvin Hayes leads No. 1 rated Houston against the Lew Alcindor — led No. 2 Penguins of UCLA at 9 p.m.

Winners of the two games meet at 7 p.m. Saturday to decide the national championship won by UCLA last year. Coach John Wooden of the defending champs says either Houston or his UCLA Bruins might suffer a letdown after winning Friday night.

Hayes and Alcindor are All-Americans and so is North Carolina's Larry Miller, who could steal the show. The 6-foot-4-inch senior averaged 22.7 points during a campaign which saw the Tar Heels post a 27-3 record and rank No. 4 in the AP poll.

Miller's top help probably will come from 6-10 Rusty Clark, most valuable player in the Eastern regionals, and 6-5 sophomore guard Charlie Scott, whose moves remind some of Oscar Robertson.

Royals Out Of Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker asked the Madison Square Garden people if they wouldn't please stop announcing the score of that game in Boston. But it didn't fool Oscar Robertson; he knew what the score was.

Detroit beat Boston 125-116 Wednesday night while New York nipped Cincinnati 108-106. Thus, the Pistons finished fourth in the Eastern Division, getting the final playoff spot. The Royals, in fifth place, are out of the playoffs for the first time in 12 years.

In the other season-ending games Wednesday, Philadelphia beat Baltimore 137-129 and Chicago whopped San Diego 121-112.

Canada Defeats U.S. in Curling

MONTREAL (AP) — Canada, coached by Don Sutherland, defeated the U.S. 8-4 and gave Canada a 1-0 victory over the United States in the second round of the International Curling Championship Wednesday night. The victory tied Canada with Scotland for first place in the eight-rink round-robin tournament.

In an afternoon match, the U.S. rink from Superior, Wis., skipped by Bud Somerville, had trounced Norway 18-7.

AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Electronic devices that can "sniff out" invisible specks of precious metals in ordinary rocks are quietly revolutionizing the world's search for gold and silver.
In the past few years two major gold strikes and a silver deposit which reportedly could rival the Comstock lode have been found with space age techniques that enabled man to test the moon's soil without setting foot on it.
Government agencies and mining interests in the United States, the Soviet Union, Africa and Australia are systematically surveying broad areas for precious metals with these new tools.

The Russian effort reportedly is far greater than this country's, with a 10-year head start.
Latest available reports indicate the Soviets are making more than seven million samplings a year compared with about 150,000 in the United States in 1967.
The electronic soil testers detect the presence of various kinds of metal by measuring the distinctive emissions each gives off when the rock is subjected to heat and other radiations.
Mobile laboratories—converted trailers—take the equipment to prospecting sites and make analyses on the spot.
A miniaturized soil-testing device using somewhat similar techniques was carried to the

and determined the lunar surface was largely basaltic like that of the earth.
The gold "sniffers" are so precise they can find particles only a few microns in diameter, scattered as widely as four parts of gold per billion parts of rock. A micron is forty-millionths of an inch.
With today's giant trucks and power shovels, gold can be recovered profitably in open pit mines where the yield is as low as $2 a ton.
U.S. Geological Survey reports indicate two recent strikes in Nevada are averaging a third of an ounce of gold per ton. That seems a small amount, but at $35 an ounce the gold yield is well within the profit-making range.
Operators estimate one of the deposits, near Carlin, Nev., may contain more than $100 million in gold. If true, this alone would be twice the current annual U.S.

production. The United States consumes $350 million worth a year for jewelry and industrial uses, leaving a $300 million deficit to be imported.
The California Division of Mines reports two new silver strikes near Barstow, each estimated to contain 25 million to 50 million tons of ore bearing one to four ounces of silver per ton.
If the higher estimates turn out to be right, this would amount to 400 million ounces, compared with 250 million ounces extracted from the old Comstock lode near Virginia City, Nev.
With silver bringing about $2 an ounce, the lower estimate of only an ounce per ton would at least pay expenses with modern techniques.
The new finds are not in the quartz veins of legend but are throughout large masses of rock, particularly silverstone and sandstone, which exist in vast quantities in Western des-

European Troupe, Play Vie
For Attention on Broadway

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP)—Two European theatrical stalwarts—a famous troupe and a family play-vied for attention in rival Brod-way openings Tuesday night.
The Vienna Burgtheater, founded in 1741 but only now on first American visit, arrived at City Center before a celebrity-studded audience, in an intriguing piece of old-fashioned dramaturgy, Arthur Schnitzler's
"Professor Bernhardt."
At the Lyceum Theater, Got-ham's own ranking repertory company, the Association of Producing Artists, staged a new production of Chekov's "The Cherry Orchard," translated and directed by Eva La Gallienne and spotlighting Uta Hagen.
Both are events of rather special appeal: each can be commended as substantial rather than shining displays of artistic endeavor.
First, the guest group. In style tempo and meticulously subtle detail, the performers exhibit an ensemble skill rarely seen this side of the Atlantic.
The story of political-medical chicanery and virtue in 1910 Vienna evolves slowly and com-plexly under the measured direction of Kurt Meisel, who also takes part as a proto-Nazi villain.
Some details of the narrative are passe, certain incidents seem ruefully quaint, but the board outline of Schnitzler's tortois tract retains chilling im-

convenient cruelty still plague mankind.
Ernst Deutsch, a German stage veteran, enacts with subdue and sardonic authority the doctor whose care of a dying patient suddenly becomes the finder of an anti-Semitic conflagration.
For visitors untutored in German, a running translation is available via radio earphone.
The APA-Phoenix production of "The Cherry Orchard" which was examined at a preview because of the premier conflict ranks somewhere in the middle of that group's accomplishment.
Miss La Gallienne's version of the test is inconspicuously natural sounding—which is meant as a tribute—and her direction flows without affectation. As the foolish matron who loses her country manor through snobbish frivolity Miss Hagen seems too forceful a personality to really let disaster catch her up.
Key supporting roles are performed by Donald Moffat, the peasant merchant who inherits the earth; Richard Woods, the grande dame's wastrel brother; Betty Miller, frustrated romantic, and Richard Easton, the student who speaks Chekov's belief in the future.
Three impressively detailed settings by James Tilton make "The Cherry Orchard," the most elaborate of this season's four APA-Phoenix productions.

GOLD PARTNERS—These are the nations (shaded) which are active partners of the U.S. in the international gold pool.

Gold Cover

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill removing the 25 per cent gold cover from the nation's paper currency, thus releasing about $10.7 billion in gold to back the dollar in foreign exchange.
For 55 years, the Treasury had been required to back each dollar with 25 cents in gold.
The White House said Tuesday Johnson signed the measure
Monday night.
Congressional enactment of the measure, urged by the President, came amid frenzied overseas speculation in gold which drained the U.S. supply of all but $11.2 billion worth—about $500 million more than the cover requirement.
When the British pound was
U.S. gold stock was $13.36 billion.

Lunch Vouchers Prove Big Business in Great Britain

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer LONDON (AP) — It started as a bid to see that girl typists got a proper mid-day meal instead of splashing their money on lipsticks or stockings. Now it's big business and growing.
Luncheon voucher — chit from employers which employes can cash in for a meal — were used by an estimated 300,000
white-collar workers last year.
The firm that provided this service reported a turnover of $28.8 million.
The British luncheon voucher has become a fringe benefit which many will not work without. It's practically a currency.
Giant firms like the oil corporations, Ford, Cunard, Imperial Chemical Industries and the nationalized steel companies use it. So do insurance firms, the Atomic Energy Authority, even religious bodies and the diplomatic corps: even little firms with a mere half-dozen employees.
There's nothing to stop any company from issuing more expensive vouchers up to 10 shillings — $1.20 — but only three shillings of the amount may be charged against taxes.
The three-shilling voucher, pays for little more than a sandwich and a glass of milk today.

Many workers say the amount is no longer enough. They have to make up the difference from their own pockets.
The business is the brainchild of John R. Hack, a 42-year-old former accountant who is managing director of Luncheon Vouchers Ltd.
World War II workers were well fed in factory canteens.
After the war they demanded something equivalent from civilian firms.
With difficulties in recruiting staff, many companies began

Soon nearly 9,000 firms were issuing vouchers in the form of printed, typed or handwritten chits or plastic discs — usually cashable at the nearest restaurant.
Hack got the idea of a central clearing house to issue a standard form of voucher and make refunds to restaurants on a nationwide basis.
His company was formed in 1955. The first year Hack had 500 customers. Then a consortium of nine of Britain's biggest catering firms took over and the thing snowballed when their restaurant chains were roped in.

Delta Queen Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)— A bill which would permit the riverboat Delta Queen to be exempt for two more years from certain safety standards was approved Wednesday by the Senate Commerce Committee.
Exemption from the safety standards would expire Nov. 1, but the bill extends it until 1970. The riverboat conflict concerns largely the maritime safety-at-sea law, which requires ocean going craft to have metal superstructures.
Delta Queen, which operates out of Cincinnati, is wooden.

AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Electronic devices that can "sniff out" invisible specks of precious metals in ordinary rocks are quietly revolutionizing the world's search for gold and silver.

In the past few years two major gold strikes and a silver deposit which reportedly could rival the Comstock lode have been found with space age techniques that enabled man to test the moon's soil without setting foot on it.

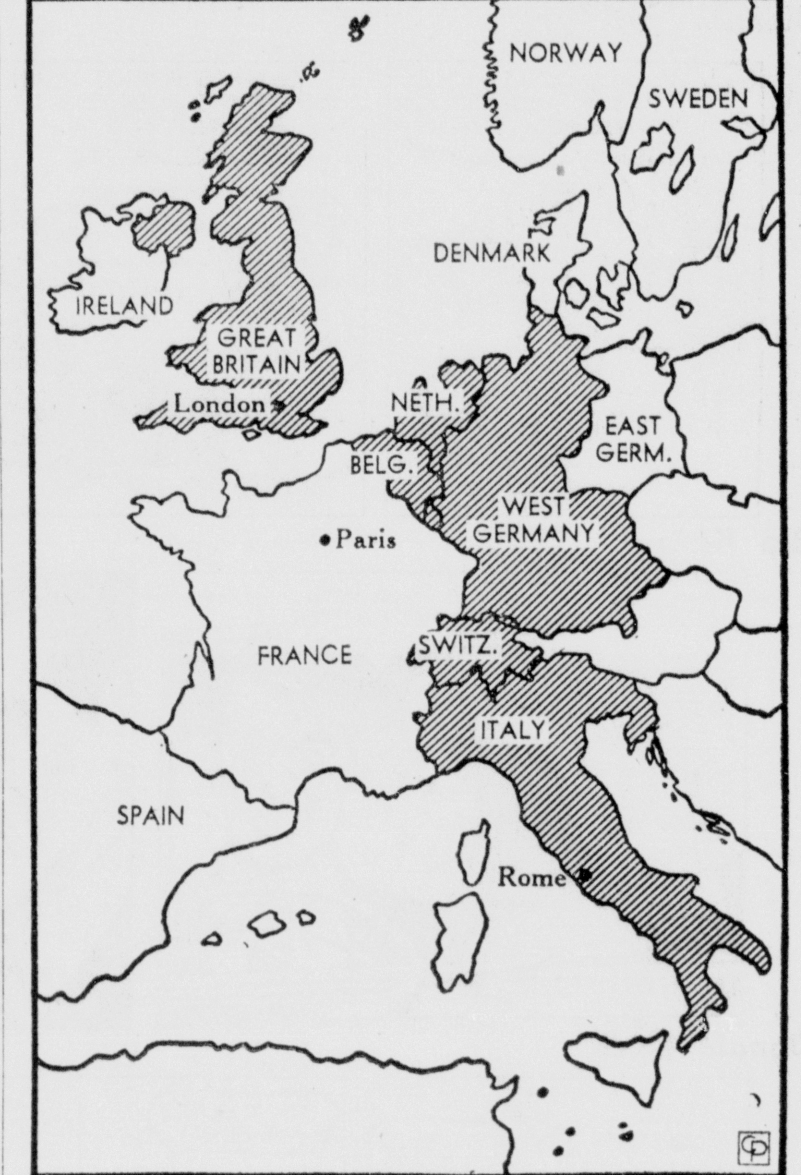

Government agencies and mining interests in the United States, the Soviet Union, Africa and Australia are systematically surveying broad areas for precious metals with these new tools.

The Russian effort reportedly is far greater than this country's, with a 10-year head start. Latest available reports indicate the Soviets are making more than seven million samplings a year compared with about 150,000 in the United States in 1967.

European Troupe, Play Vie For Attention on Broadway

AP Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP)—Two European theatrical stalwarts—a famous troupe and a family play—vied for attention in rival Broadway openings Tuesday night.

Gold Cover Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill removing the 25 per cent gold cover from the nation's paper currency, thus releasing about $10.7 billion in gold to back the dollar in foreign exchange.

For 55 years, the Treasury had been required to back each dollar with 25 cents in gold.
